Of the amount outstanding embraced in the numbers as above, sixteen millions dollars are coupon bonds and four million registered bonds.

The coupon bonds of the act of February 25th, 1862, were issued in four distinct series. The bonds of the first series, all of which have been previously called for redemption, were printed in green tint and have no designation of "series" upon them. The bonds of the "second series," all of which have been previously called for redemption, were printed in yellow tint, and have the words "second series" on the bonds and "second" on each coupon. The bonds of the "third series," embracing the above numbers, were printed in black, and have the words "third series" on the bonds and "third" on the bond or on each coupon, or both. The bonds of "fourth series" were printed in black, with red numbering, and have the words "fourth series" or "fourth" on them.

United States securities forwarded for redemption should be addressed to "Loan Division, Secretary's office," and all registered bonds should be assigned to the Secretary of the Treasury for redemption.

THE MODOCS.

General Davis About to Hang Captain Jack and Others of the Savages, When He is Stopped by an Order from Washington.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 6.—A dispatch from Boyle's states that General Davis intends to erect a scaffold and execute about one dozen of the worst murderers in the tribe at sunset to-morrow. He feels that there is no need of delay. No doubt of the guilt of the chosen victims can exist. Justice demands speedy and certain action. Even at this time he is writing out a statement of the offenses that will be read to the condemned.

A later dispatch says General Davis, after having completed all the arrangements for the execution of the Modocs, received an order from Washington to hold the prisoners. This stopped the contemplated work. The feeling in camp is one of profound disgust at the result. One of the Oregon volunteers just arrived at camp says the troops have captured five warriors, four squaws and five children. Among the men are the notorious Black Jim and Dave. These prisoners are at Linkville.

CASUALTIES.

Fatally Injured at a Barn Raising.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

MIDDLETOWN, IND., June 6, 1873.

Yesterday while several men were engaged in putting together the timbers of a barn near this place, a large stick of timber fell from the building, striking Mr. Jacob Bowers upon the head, crushing the skull. Several physicians were soon in attendance but pronounced the wound fatal.

Destructive Fire at Toledo, Ohio—Loss $250,0 0.

TOLEDO, OHIO, June 6.—A fire broke out at nine o'clock this evening in the trunk factory of Brooks, Chase & Crafts, on St. Clair street, between Adams and Madison, which threatens to be the most disastrous that has occurred here for several years. The locality is in the heart of the business portion of the city, and already many stores on Summit street are in flames. A fresh wind is blowing from the northeast and it is at present impossible to say where it is likely to be checked. Among the firms occupying the blocks now on fire are: Eaton & Backus, dry goods; M. H. Hunker, confections; Pain Bros, hair goods; T. J. Brown, books; C. H. Buck, merchant tailor; Peter Scott and Wachter Bros., boat stores; Frost & Williams, ladies' furnishing goods; V. W. Granger & Co., merchant tailors; Drake & Wood, ladies' furnishing goods; Waite & Brand, music store; L. Tankle, jewelry; O. Schroster, notions and fancy goods. The building occupied by the Daily Commercial is now on fire.

Twelve o'clock.—At this hour the fire is under partial control, with a fair prospect that it will be stopped at the Gardner block, corner of Summit and Madison streets. Telegrams have been sent to Detroit, Sandusky, Fremont and Adrian for steamers, and one from each of the two last named towns are coming. The Commercial office is but slightly injured, the wind carrying the fire away from it in a southerly direction. The flames swept through the alley between Adams and Madison streets and into the rear of the stores fronting on Summit. The names of the occupants, most of which were given in former dispatch. The large dry goods store of Fred. Eaton & Co.; Hunker, confectionary, and W. W. Alcorn, jewelry store, entirely destroyed. The contents of all the stores on the line of the fire are mostly removed, and, though badly damaged, a large portion will be saved. The streets are packed with goods in all directions, and a squad of Zouaves have been detailed to guard them. The trunk factory, in the upper story of which the fire originated, was built as a skating rink and remodelled, was full of stock but little of which was saved. It is impossible as yet to estimate the loss or amount of insurance.

LATER.—The fire is now entirely under control, having spread no further southward than the Gardner block. A steamer from Adrian has arrived and is now at work. The loss will probably reach $250,-000; insurance $150,000.

CRIMES.

Inquest in the Walworth Parricide

NEW YORK, June 6.—At the inquest in the Walworth case to-day, H. C. Barrett, cashier of the Sturtevant House, testified that he had been acquainted with Walworth, senior, and Frank Walworth, about two years. On Monday afternoon, about three o'clock, the prisoner registered his name. He asked for a room and his dinner, but did not make any inquiries regarding his father's whereabouts. During the afternoon the prisoner went out of the hotel and returned about seven o'clock in the evening. Witness took supper with young Walworth at eight o'clock, but the conversation was upon several matters and nothing was introduced bearing on the trouble with his father. Witness concluded by detailing the movements of the prisoner until next morning. Josiah Moorhead, who occupied the room next to where the murder was committed, testified that he heard shots soon after the man was admitted to Walworth's room, and did not hear any conversation between them, and at the second and third shots he heard the cry of "murder" quite loud. The other testimony was the same as before published. During the inquest young Walworth appeared to be the most unconcerned person present, and as the story of the murder was repeated no sign of remorse at the deed or terror as to his fate was visible on his countenance. He smiled several times at mistakes made by witnesses.

The jury retired, and returned with the following verdict: "We find that Mansfield T. Walworth came to his death from shock and internal hemorrhage, the result of a pistol shot wound of the chest, said pistol having been discharged at the hands of Frank H. Walworth, at the Sturtevant House, Broadway, New York, Tuesday morning, June 3d, 1873."

The prisoner, in reply to the usual questions, gave his name as Frank Hardin Walworth, aged nineteen, born at and resident of Saratoga, but engaged in no business at present. In answer to the question what he had to say, if anything, to the charge, he said: "I am guilty of no crime. I will make a statement. My father treated my mother very cruelly for years. Incensed against his own father for putting his little share of property in trust, so that my mother and family got something out of it; my father kept writing letters to my mother full of imprecations against his father. He wrote to her among other things 'I will kill your boys and defeat the d—d scoundrel in his grave, and cut off his d—d name forever.' He also threatened my mother's life. About three years ago he beat my mother cruelly. I was not present but saw the marks. When I heard this I loaded a pistol belonging to a cousin of mine and have carried it. I supposed father was armed, at least when he came to see us. My uncle Clarence Walworth has been a father to us. He recently proposed to take me to Europe with him. Was troubled about leaving my mother without a protector. Sunday last I wrote to this uncle, that I must go and see my father, and whether I could go to Europe or not would depend on that interview, from the fact that I wanted to get reliable assurance that he would not molest my mother during my absence. Had no intention to kill him. When he came into my room I asked him to sit down. He did so. Spoke to him of his conduct, and said, 'Promise me you will neither shoot my mother, nor insult her nor any of the family any further.' He answered, 'I promise,' but with a look which, to my mind, implied contempt and the reverse of an intent to keep the promise. He had just before put his hand to his breast as if to pull out a pistol. Am unconscious of having fired more than three times. He closed on me rapidly. His breast was upon me when I fired the last time. Don't think he said anything the whole interview but what I have stated."

The prisoner was then taken to the Tombs to await the action of the Grand Jury.

The Lampley Homicide, in Baltimore.

BALTIMORE, June 6.—A special from Annapolis says: The Court of Appeals in the case of Joshua Nicholson, convicted of the murder of Mrs. Lampley, affirms the ruling of the Court below. It now remains for the Court below to pass sentence upon Nicholson, and for the Governor to fix the day for his execution. Hollohan, who was tried jointly with Nicholson, and whose execution is fixed for the 13th inst., will probably be respited by the Governor, and executed at the same time with Nicholson.

Attempted Rape and Murder.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., June 6.—Joe Lane, a Spaniard, has been arrested on a charge of attempting to ravish and murder Mrs. Gage, in her house, near Albion, New York, yesterday. The woman is in a precarious condition.

Death Sentence Executed.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—Tom Wright was hanged to-day in the jail yard, for the murder of Rogerski. He appeared quite unconcerned, and mounted the gallows with a firm step, smiling meanwhile, until the black cap was adjusted. At ten minutes past twelve the drop fell. Life was not extinct until the lapse of seventeen minutes. His neck was not broken, the man being choked to death. There were about four hundred persons in the jail yard, and several thousand outside; many of them were on housetops and other high points where they could have a full view of the execution.

Attempted Murders at Hazelton, Pa.

HAZELTON, PA., June 6.—Henry Stanfenderg yesterday demanded money from a widow named Reilly, which she refused. He then beat and stabbed her severely, also a little girl in the same house, and a woman in the neighborhood. He is not arrested.

Mt. Vernon, Ohio, Spring Races.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

MT. VERNON, OHIO, June 6, 1873.

The Cholera at Memphis.

MEMPHIS, June 6.—There is but little excitement in regard to the cholera, though there is little if any decrease in the mortality, and physicians say thus far nearly every case which was promptly treated on the first appearance of the disease has been successfully treated, though in some instances death has ensued in four or five hours. The Appeal says out of 367 deaths since May 2 to date, only 23 were reported as cholera by the attending physicians.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION.

Legislative Article—Report of Pittsburgh Temperance Alliance Presented.

In the Constitutional Convention, Thursday afternoon, the consideration of the article on the Legislature was continued, and the sections adopted substantially as reported. The only one giving rise to lengthy discussion was the nineteenth, prohibiting appropriations by the Legislature, except for pensions or gratuities for military service, for charitable, educational or beneficial purposes, to any person or community, or to any denominational or sectarian institution, incorporation or association. An amendment to permit such appropriation upon a two-third vote was lost. After the rejection of numerous modifications the section prevailed.

Additional sections were passed providing for checks upon dishonest practices in legislation, requiring bills to be signed in the presence of either house of the Legislature; and that sixty days prior notice of contemplated special laws be given. They prohibit extension of the term or alteration of the salary of any public officer during his service; require all appropriations other than for ordinary expenses of the government, interest on public debt and public schools, to be made by separate bills, each embracing but one subject; requires a two-thirds vote for appropriations to charitable and educational institutions not under absolute control of the Commonwealth; prohibits the State, or any city, county, borough, etc., from loaning its credit to or becoming stockholders in any corporation, association, etc.; and prevents legislative interference in the functions of municipalities. Pending a vote upon the section against investment of trust funds in the bonds or stock of any private corporation, the Convention adjourned.

At the opening of the Convention yesterday forenoon, the President presented a report, or communication, from the Pittsburgh Temperance Alliance, which was read and laid on the table.

The Convention then resumed the consideration of the article on legislation, on the twenty-fourth section and amendments pending. After further discussion, the section was agreed to.

POLITICAL.

State.

The Lancaster Express is not pleased with the renomination, in this county, of four of last year's nominees. We are sorry at the failure of our Legislative Convention to please the Express; but it is altogether owing to the fact that that paper neglected to send on word, beforehand, what it wanted. The Convention would have doubtless obeyed its behests if they had been made known in season.

We are astonished to learn from the Lancaster Express that our amiable and extremely modest representative, Newmyer, is "pompous and mediocre." We own up, for him, to the "mediocre," and even then he is far ahead of the Express men; but to the "pompous," never!

R. R. Chrisman, of Harrisburg, announces himself as a candidate for the Republican nomination for Assembly.

As usual, there is trouble brewing in the Democratic camp in Lehigh county, all because of too many aspirants for the different positions to be filled this fall.

It is understood that after continued importunities H. Jones Brooks, Esq., of Delaware county, has consented to run for the nomination of Senator in the Delaware and Chester district.

The Johnstown Tribune, in view of the fact that Cambria, although a Democratic county, has for two years been represented in the Legislature by a Republican, believes that if the party puts up a strong and able man, he will be elected. The Tribune names Mr. Alexander Kennedy as filling all the requirements.

Daniel Black, of Tionesta, is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Assembly. J. Harvey Wilson of Clarion county, is also a candidate.

A writer in the Bloomfield (Perry county) Advocate and Press says: "Under the amendment to the Constitution, the State Treasurer is hereafter to be elected by the people instead of by the Legislature, and as the time for nominating candidates for that important position is approaching, and gentlemen have already been named in that connection from different parts of the State, let me suggest the name of Isaac Wright, Esq., Cashier of the Newport Deposit Bank, as the Republican candidate for State Treasurer. Mr. Wright is an ardent Republican, and is every way qualified for the position. He will make a competent and faithful State Treasurer. He has hosts of friends both in the country and throughout the State. I believe he is the strongest man yet named for the nomination. If he is nominated Perry county will roll up an old-fashioned Republican majority for him."

Says the Harrisburg State Journal: The Allentown Daily Chronicle urges with considerable vehemence that unless the Republicans of the rural districts unite on some good man for Supreme Judge, the cabals which are now intriguing in Philadelphia will nominate a man not entirely unexceptionable to the people, and whose candidature will put the State ticket in peril. We do not altogether like this way of putting the case, and object to the rural districts "uniting" against the city, as we do to Philadelphia, controlling the country. If Philadelphia can present a good man as a Republican candidate for Supreme Judge, let him be nominated. In fact, as a Philadelphian's term as Supreme Judge expires this year, we are inclined to concede the nomination of a candidate to take his place to the city. This seems the fair way of regarding this matter, if we desire to conduct our party affairs in the spirit of brotherly love.

The Altoona Radical says: From advices from the county generally, we have assurances that the Republican ticket is satisfactory to the party. The defeated candidates show no spirit of revenge or hostility toward their successful rivals. This is as it should be. Had either of the defeated been successful, he would have expected the support of all the others.

The Democrats of Forest county will hold their primary election on the 21st inst.

General.

Some of the Ohio Democratic papers, forgetful of the $15,000 story of last year, want to run Fred. Hassaurek for Lieutenant Governor, but the Cincinnati Commercial insists that he should be the Democratic candidate for Governor. We hope the party will accept the suggestion; the party being a wreck itself, it will feel best when it has a wreck for a candidate.

SECOND EDITION.

WASHINGTON.

The New Russian Minister.

Demand for Captain Jack.

Negro Murderer Executed.

Colored Men Seeking Office.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6, 1873.

The New Russian Minister.

Governor Jewell, the newly appointed Minister to Russia, will visit this city next week to receive his instructions, now being prepared at the State Department, and will sail from New York for his post of duty during the first of July. The new Minister will be accompanied by his wife and two daughters and will live in a manner becoming the dignity and character of the republic at the Imperial Court of Russia. Governor Jewell is a gentleman of large means, and the elegance of his hospitality during his Gubernatorial career will doubtless be eclipsed in this more extended and prominent field of official duty. The American legation at St. Petersburg, therefore, will be unusually attractive. Gov. Jewell at present intends to remain at the Russian court about two years. His large business interest at home would be materially impaired by a longer absence. The citizens of Connecticut will have had three representatives at the Court of the Czar—Ingersoll, Seymour and Jewell.

Demand for Captain Jack.

That caged savage, Captain Jack, is highly esteemed by enterprising showmen. Before he was taken the government had a good offer for the body for embalment and exhibition. A Buckeye showman has now offered one thousand dollars a day for sixty days for Captain Jack's services. The distinguished aborigine is proving quite a bone of contention between the civil and military and State and national authorities.

Hanging of a Negro Murderer.

The execution of the negro murderer, Tom. Wright, took place to-day to the great relief of this much afflicted community. Of late there has been considerable trouble with desperate characters, white and black, and a hearty exercise of the rigors of the law, it is hoped, will turn to good account. Wright's record of crime was almost unparalleled. His departure, therefore, to the other world is a subject of congratulation.

Just Too Late.

A delegation of colored men from Virginia called on the Postmaster General to-day to request the appointment of one of their race as one of the new special postoffice agents. The Postmaster General received them courteously and expressed his regret that he could not comply with their request, as on recommendation Col. J. S. Mosby he had just appointed H. B. Bradley, of Virginia.

An Ohio Barnum Wants Capt. Jack for Exhibition.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 6.—An enterprising individual writes to the government from Tiffin, Ohio, offering to pay sixty thousand dollars for the privilege of exhibiting Captain Jack throughout the country during sixty days. The showman promises to keep Jack securely, treat him well and return him to the government at the expiration of sixty days, provided he does not commit suicide, in which case the government is to receive only one thousand dollars per day for the time he remains in the showman's hands alive. It is proposed to pay thirty thousand dollars upon the delivery of Jack at Chicago, and the remainder at the close of two months.

STATE NEWS.

Leopold Meignen, one of Philadelphia's foremost musicians, died on the 4th inst., aged eighty years.

Two love stricken Chester county people eloped the other day on a canal boat.

The miners at the Koh-i-noor Colliery, Shenandoah, Schuylkill county, are still out, and are determined to have the increased wages demanded from the Philadelphia Coal and Iron Company. They have been out about three weeks. The miners at Indian Ridge Colliery, in the same district, are now at work, the rule requiring them to go into the mines early in the morning not being enforced.

The State Grand Lodge of Good Templars is to meet at Harrisburg on the 10th inst.

Large deposits of feldspa have been found in Lancaster county, and a company is being formed to erect a mill for the purpose of preparing the mineral for use in the manufacture of china and stoneware.

A party of viewers are passing over the route of the proposed National Railroad between New York and Baltimore, and passing through Phoenixville, Morgantown, Churchtown, Springfield, Lancaster, &c.

The Hampton furnace at Birdsville, Berks county, which has been out of blast for six months, has, during that time, been changed from charcoal to anthracite, and is now in operation. The proprietors intend to make a grade of iron from which Bessemer steel can be manufactured.

The Reading papers cry aloud for the cleansing of the streets of that city.

The male American is, as a national rule, polite and considerate to the other species. It is proverbial that women are more safe and comfortable in traveling in this country, alone, than anywhere else in the world. There was a good illustration of this pleasant trait, by the way, recently, in a Walnut street car, Philadelphia. An old gentleman was seated in one corner, and the car was full. A bevy of the fair ones, of all ages and weights, swarmed in, and there were no seats. Whereupon the gallant old gentleman said, aloud: "Ladies, I shall be most happy to give my seat to any one of you who is over thirty-two years of age." All remained standing.

The St. Louis Journal says: Last evening Ben Williams, a resident of Huntingdon, Pennsylvania, arrived in Carondelet by the Iron Mountain Railway, and having a plentiful lack of lucre, was compelled by stern necessity, to take his lodgings outside of the South St. Louis furnace. He chose his bed beside a large casting, weighing fully a thousand pounds, to which a mule was secured. Soon after he fell into deep slumber the animal became frightened at a stentorian snore let off by Williams, and pulling hard on the halter strap, pulled the casting on to him. When discovered and rescued, twenty minutes later, he was unconscious and taken to the Health office. Blood was oozing from his eyes, ears and mouth, and it is thought he is dangerously injured. Williams is a Welshman, aged about thirty years.

The Odd Fellows of Gratz, Dauphin county, dedicated a new hall on the 2d inst.

The spring fair of the Agricultural Park Association will be held at Lancaster on the 11th, 12th and 13th inst.

In Columbia, Lancaster county, on the 5th, Wm. Bubb, colored, accidentally discharged a gun, the contents wounding two women of his own race who were standing on the opposite side of the street.

A Wayne county man received a check for $1,000, the other day, sent by a man in Japan, as a reward for the former's having rescued him from drowning fifteen years ago.

The Johnstown people are hunting up their Bibles and brushing the dust from them, in order to ascertain their age. One man brought out one printed in 1764; and another goes eight years better with one dated in 1756. Yet another bears the imprint of 1755.

Gottlieb Roth, of Williamsport, in the delirium produced by typhoid fever, left his bed, and going to a neighbor's premises, jumped into a well. Here he remained, standing in water up to his chin, for twenty minutes, when he was discovered and rescued.

Harrison Grambo, of Philadelphia, has agreed to pay his creditors seventy per cent. of their claims.

A boy captured four young foxes near Freeburg the other day.

Henry Specht was killed at Adamsburg, Snyder county, a few days ago, by the falling of a piece of timber from a new building.

A man named McDongal was drowned in Swatara creek, near Middletown, on the 5th inst., by the upsetting of a boat.

Judge Pearson, of Dauphin county, says a large majority of the landlords make their profits by selling liquors to intemperate persons, and it is the court's intention to break up this pernicious practice by refusing license to any person known to have furnished intoxicating drinks to inebriates. The proof of the giving of one drink by an applicant for license to such a person is sufficient excuse for unfavorable consideration of the application and for the revocation of a license already granted.

The Allentown Chronicle of the 5th inst. says: Yesterday afternoon an infant child of Mrs. Loudenslager, residing near Cedarville, fell out of the cradle and caught its neck in a string attached to the top of the cradle, letting the weight of the body on the neck. When the mother went to the child it was dead.

The Flanders Hotel, at Jaynesville, Clearfield county, was destroyed by fire on the 30th inst. Loss $6,000; insurance $3,500.

A man was killed at Louis Black's sawmill, eight miles east of Altoona, on Thursday.

It is said that five thousand acres of corn were planted in Mercer last week.

The Erie Dispatch says: Mr. F. A. Crandall, formerly editor of the Oswego, New York, Press, has purchased the Erie Gazette, and announces his intention, in the last issue of that paper, to conduct it hereafter as an out-and-out Republican journal. We congratulate the party on the new departure of a paper which once was as true to Republican interests as the needle to the pole, but which has been, for some years past, too ready to bolt regular nominations and favor the claims of "independent" candidates.

Rev. S. S. Miller, of Driftwood, caught 755 trout in three days, last week.

Patrick Coggrove, of Williamsport, got himself in trouble at Emporium, by loving not wisely but too many. Leaving a wife in the former place, he cultivated the acquaintance of and married a girl of fifteen in Emporium, and after three days of the honeymoon had passed, wife No. 1 put in an appearance and had him arrested for bigamy.

At Osceola, Clearfield county, in five days last week, 456,045 feet of lumber were shipped on fifty-eight cars from the Moshannon Land and Lumber Company's mill.

The Tyrone Herald says: After a short suspension of work on account of a scarcity of metal, the Tyrone Forge is again turning out blooms as fast as any well arranged forge and good workmen can make them.

If John Walters, of Spring Creek, Warren county, had been a resident of Mexico, he would have been a greater hero than the grizzliest veteran that ever served in the army of that land of turmoil, as he survives more revolutions than the oldest "Greaser." Walters was caught in the shaft of a mill, a few weeks ago, and whirled around until every vestige of his clothing, from his shirt collar to boots, was taken off, piecemeal. He survives, and could apparently stand another series of revolutions of the kind.

Mr. Goddard, of Summit township, Erie county, was thrown from a wagon on the 4th inst., and had his back broken. His recovery is considered doubtful.

An Erie lady caught and landed, unaided, a muscalonge three feet three inches in length, and weighing twelve and a half pounds.

A man has leased the Warren street railway, and represents in his own person President, Superintendent, Treasurer, Secretary, Board of Directors, driver and conductor. That beats Col. Tom. Scott.

THE COLORED SCHOOLS.

A Discussion About the Abolition of the Separate School—Arguments on the Question—The Committee Decide to Continue Another Year.

A meeting of the Committee on the Miller Street (colored) Schools was held yesterday afternoon at the school building, in the Eleventh ward, for the purpose of considering the resolution recently passed by the Central Board ordering an inquiry as to the propriety and practicability of abolishing the schools and admitting all colored children into their respective ward schools. The committee had invited some of the more prominent colored people, as well as members of the Central Board of Education, to be present. The attendance was, however, small, there being but a dozen colored men and women present, and four or five members of the Board, in addition to the committee.

Mr. McEwen, Chairman of the Committee, stated the object of the meeting, and said that it was the wish of the committee to hear the views of the people on the question. The question is whether we shall have separate schools for colored children or not. After hearing the question discussed, the committee, with the knowledge before them, will make up their mind and report to the Central Board.

VIEWS OF COLORED MEN.

Mr. John Turfling said he would be sorry to see the school broken up, and believed it would work much against the colored people at this time. The sparse attendance should not now abolish it. The people who have children here are in favor of the school, and they look to the future for better results. All wish us to have education for our children. It is not necessary to spend years of study in all avocations but every one should have a common school education. You will not open the door of your public schools to colored teachers, no matter what capacity they have. The teachers employed here have no other calling, and to close this school is to throw them out of employment. In the speakers judgement the time had not yet come for admittance of colored teachers in ward schools. They would be laughed at should they apply. The time will come when this opposition will cease. The questions as to the good of the colored race all come right in time. You want us to get knowledge, to be elevated, and you should sacrifice a little by keeping this school open. Close it and you throw us back in our progress.

REMARKS OF REV. ASBURY.

Rev. D. E. Asbury next spoke on behalf of the school. He thought the committee should take note of the good of the mass rather than a part. If altogether we have no more than enough schools it would not be wise to discontinue any. In the opinion of the speaker it was exceedingly dangerous to merge one with another. Every good effort has its mission, and the place of this school could not be supplied. There is a mission work here; the work to be done here cannot be done elsewhere, and if not done here it will not be done at all. Discontinue this school and the probabilities are that many of the pupils will not go to school anywhere, for no telling how long a time. Six months—one year lost, may never be regained. In childhood is the time to learn, to get education. Those who are sending their children to the ward schools will not likely take them away, but there are plenty not attending any school to fill this one to overflowing. This school is every way adapted to the wants of the colored people. It is in the right locality and must do good. It cannot be discontinued without great damage. Give one year more of trial—give longer time before discontinuing it.

REMARKS OF REV. HEDGES.

This gentleman could not see how the school could be abolished. The time has come for the opening of the ward schools to colored teachers. It will be disastrous to abolish this school, and the teachers here could not get employment elsewhere. They have spent their means and their time to be educated for the purpose of elevating their people. There is a feeling in the hearts of our people to show that they can educate, and it would be an injustice to interfere with it. There is work to be done here that can be done by none but black men. There must be some separation. It has been tried times without number to bring people of color to churches of the other race to avoid destinction. Truth is learned by sad experience, and it has been found necessary to have a separate church. They feel at home to be able to worship "under their own vine and fig tree." No one dare say, "Abolish public schools," and so it ought to be with regard to this colored public school. As with other schools, so with ours; it ought not to be abolished. We are not ready. It may be said there are but few, but good is done to spend our money for the education of our people.

REMARKS OF MR. JOHN PECK.

Mr. Peck being called upon said that he had not understood the purpose of the meeting, and was somewhat surprised, but expected, rather, a discussion as to the propriety of sending colored children to the ward schools. He for one thought it proper to send their children to the school as was best and most convenient, and living in the First ward he sent his child to the school there because the colored school was too far away. The speaker, however, thought the Miller street school a necessity and would be sorry to see it abolished. He believed that it may not be, altogether, in as prosperous a condition as it might be. There were reasons, however, for it. There are a great many of the colored people without education, and they have not the proper appreciation of it. Many having gotten along in the world think their children can also do it. They have to learn that the "mind makes the man." He thought that the interest in the school might be revived, and said that there must be an effort made to bring in the children. Parents must be made to feel that they are robbing their children by keeping them from school.

COLORED LADIES SPEAK.

Mrs. Mary Golden said she would be sorry to see the school broken up. She has children attending and they are doing well. She hoped that there would yet be another year of trial on behalf of the school.

Another lady spoke in a similar strain. She would rather have colored teachers for her children and thought that they, the children, would do better. The teachers employed in the school are competent ones and are doing much good.

A third lady hoped that the school would be continued, and that efforts would be made to increase the attendance.

HOW TO INCREASE THE SCHOOLS.

Mr. McCune asked Mr. Peck how he thought the attendance might be increased. Mr. Peck said that the colored people who felt an interest in the matter must go to work at it. He did not allude to the Board, but thought the committee had been doing all they could. Its success rests with the colored people. The idea must be enforced upon parents that it is necessary for them to send their children to school. The speaker was fully sensible of the difficulties that would arise should the separate schools be closed. The difference would soon be apparent, and further effort ought to be made rather than take the risk.

Rev. Hodge suggested that the pulpit should speak to heads of colored families.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Prof. Luckey, Superintendent of Schools, being called upon, regretted that he was compelled to differ with all that had spoken. He recognized the fact that there would be inconvenience in closing the school; but the arguments offered in its behalf were of little weight. There is no use to attempt to hold on to separate schools and at the same time to cry out against prejudice against color. The only way to break down that prejudice is to educate from childhood all together. This school can be improved, but it is a great mistake to teach separately and still hope to break down prejudice. They must be together to do so. In regard to colored teachers there is nothing but prejudice to prevent them from teaching in any school; there is no law against it. The speaker stated the fact that there is now a colored teacher employed in one of the white schools of this county. The mass must be brought up from infancy together to do away with prejudice.

Mr. Turfling, Rev. Asbury and Rev. Hodge, each replied stating that there was still necessity for this separate school, and that the time had not yet come for the entire commingling of the races.

Dr. Shaw, of the Central Board, said he was in favor of abolishing the school. Many colored people send their children to the ward schools and this school is fast dwindling away. He was willing, if it was thought that the number of pupils could be increased to try it another year.

Mr. Peck stated that the remarks of Prof. Luckey were entirely correct. Sixty years ago he had gone to school in Virginia with white children, and but seldom had it been brought to his mind that he was black. Undoubtedly the only way to put down prejudice is to educate together, but he thought the time had not yet come. He was confident that there is plenty of children not attending school that can only be got to this school. If the colored people will not take proper interest, the Board would do right to abolish it.

Mr. John Wilson, of the Central Board, said he had always had a warm interest in the school, but the arguments he had heard in favor of continuing were very weak. The main argument was sympathy for teachers, and this was an old subject to directors. A change must come sooner or later, and it may be that now is the better time.

Mr. Craig, President of the Board, expressed his friendly interest in the colored people and the education of their children, but it was to their own interest to have no separate school. They ought rather to hasten the breaking down of prejudice. Separate schools ought not to be.

Mr. Turfling again spoke for another year's trial.

Mr. Arthurs, of the committee, who had just come in, on being informed of the subject under discussion, said that all ought to be satisfied that the school was not succeeding. It is only by the personal efforts of the teachers that enough scholars are obtained to keep it open. A majority of the colored children would rather go to the ward schools. He was in favor of discontinuance at once. The teachers ought not to want the school continued if they desire the good of the whole race.

The meeting then adjourned and the committee proceeded to consult regarding the question.

THE COMMITTEE'S VIEWS.

The committee, or the four members present, had a long discussion on the subject, but did not arrive at a conclusion, preferring to postpone definite action until Tuesday next, when there is likely to be full meeting, and the various opinions may be harmonized. We may state, however, that three members desire to have continuance of the schools at least for another year, while the fourth member objected, but agreed to yield the point, providing it was understood that separate schools would then be abolished.

As bearing upon the subject under discussion, we may add that there is a male principal and two female assistants engaged in the school; that the enrolled pupils number about 150, and the average attendance is about 75. The total cost of running the schools for the last school year was $4,156 19, and the cost per pupil was $41 56. It will be understood that this calculation is based upon the attendance, and that twice the number of pupils would not have cost more.

Drawing in the Schools.

Our readers are already aware that at the last regular meeting of the Central Board of Education Smith's drawing cards were chosen, and at the next school term the study will be introduced into all the public schools. We are pleased to learn that Messrs. Osgood & Co., the publishers, of Boston, have agreed to send here at their own expense a competent man to oversee the introduction of the study. The gentleman will remain here through the months of September, October and November, and devote all the time to the schools. On Saturdays the teachers, in classes, will receive instruction at his hands.

Prime Roasted Coffee.

Dilworth's patent steam polished, Java flavored coffee is certainly the best article in the market. The delicious aroma which ascends from it while being prepared is enough to throw a luxurious eater into ecstacies. It is so neatly put up in packages all ready to be ground that housewives very naturally take to it, as it is a great labor saver. Go to your retail grocer and buy a package, and our word for it you will linger at your cups like birds in autumn. Boarding is worth fifty cents more a week where it is used.

Bellevue Cemetery.

Messrs. Wm. Dilworth, Sr., Wm. McConway and others have procured a charter for a cemetery from the Court of Common Pleas. It is proposed to locate the cemetery at the beautiful place of Wm. Dilworth, Jr., on the Beaver road. Lots are now ready for sale.

Is the Best in Market.

Go to your retail grocer and buy a package and use it according to directions on the wrapper, and you will be convinced that for purity, strength and richness of flavor this brand of roasted coffee has no equal.

They Deserve Credit.

In our rounds yesterday we dropped in to see the new firm of George Crawford & Co., jewelers and opticians, 76 Fifth avenue, to learn how they were succeeding as successors to W. G. Dunseath, and found them highly gratified with the liberal patronage bestowed upon them by Mr. Dunseath's former friends, and also for their increased new trade. They are receiving fresh goods daily, both from importers and manufacturers, so that you can always depend upon being suited in the latest styles. We noticed that our friend James S. Wallace, who is with the firm, has recovered from a very severe illness, and is at his post in charge of the books, which in itself speaks well for the future prosperity of the firm.

When to Buy Property.

When a very large amount of the choicest property is suddenly thrown on the market, buyers have the advantage. Such was the case last Wednesday at Sewickley, when nearly one hundred very large and beautiful lots were thrown on the market for what they would bring, and some thirty were sold at prices twenty to thirty per cent. less than regular rates. Nearly twenty city business men were the buyers, and most of them will begin improving at an early day, insuring a most elegant neighborhood. A second and final sale will take place next Wednesday afternoon, upon arrival of Sands & Adair's special express train, time of which will be duly announced. To secure a most charming lot, in the most charming suburb, at very low prices and easy terms, we advise our readers to be on hand.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH,
PITTSBURGH, June 3, 1873.

☞ TO THE PUBLIC—

Reports have lately been received at this office which indicate that our city MAY be visited by Epidemic Cholera during the coming summer.

As it is only by united efforts upon the part of this Board, the Street Committee and Street Commissioners, together with the earnest personal efforts of all our citizens that such a calamity may be averted; I would therefore earnestly urge upon all such to see that every street, alley, yard, cellar, &c., is kept in the best possible sanitary condition.

The Board of Health is now, as in the past, using all the means in its power to accomplish this end, but without the co-operation of our citizens, its efforts will, in some measure at least, fail.

I would also again give notice, that all persons found violating any of the laws or regulations of this Board will be summarily dealt with in accordance therewith.

Health Officer.

The Daily Commercial.

SATURDAY, JUNE 7, 1873.

THE Arkansas troubles were all settled on Wednesday last, by a decision of the Supreme Court, the substance of which appeared in the telegraphic columns of all the daily papers on Thursday; yet yesterday two of the city dailies had editorial articles on the subject, treating it as still an open and unsettled one. The editors of those papers evidently do not read the news furnished in their own columns.

THE fall of Captain JACK and that of "Gov." MCENERY, of Louisiana, were simultaneous, and each causes an equal amount of sorrow in Democratic breasts. The Democratic papers mourn alike over both. "The country," says the Missouri Republican, "has been rid of the Louisiana disturbance by the patriotic action of Gov. MCENERY." And the Modoc disturbance has been got rid of by the patriotic action of Captain JACK. Neither of them gave up until he couldn't help it.

GOVERNOR WISE declines to be the candidate, for Governor, of the Republicans of Virginia, not because there was any probability of his nomination, by them, but because some thoughtless Republican of that State had been foolish enough to suggest such a thing. If there is one man beneath the sun whom the Republicans of Virginia never could support, under any circumstances, that man is HENRY A. WISE. It is owing to WISE alone, that JOHN BROWN's bones lie mouldering in the ground; but, thank heaven, his soul still marches on, and while it does, no Republican, in Virginia or out of it, can vote for JOHN BROWN's murderer.

THE recent coupling of Gov. HARLAN's name with that of Miss ANNA DICKINSON, as her intended husband, just when that gentleman was about to wed another woman, was an act of newspaper brutality for which there can be no palliation. Miss DICKINSON is not public property, that her name should thus be handed about by every malignant scribbler who chooses to fling sharp words at her. She earns her living by lecturing, but she earns it honestly, maintains a pure character, and sustains a life without reproach, and she is fairly entitled to be treated with the decent respect which is paid to other women. It is in just such ways as this that American journalism is constantly disgraced.

IN OUR comments, on Wednesday last, on the Republican ticket which was nominated the day before, we should have stated (which we now do, most cheerfully) that no one will yield a heartier support to the nomination of Mr. EWING, for Presiding Judge of the District Court, than Hon. WM. B. NEGLEY. He had a host of ardent friends for that position, himself, and they rallied to his side with an energy and spirit which show his personal popularity among his friends and acquaintances. He polled a highly respectable vote in the Convention, and he may congratulate himself on having received so flattering a support in the city in which he has spent his life. Mr. NEGLEY is a rising man, an able lawyer, stands remarkably well at the bar, and has earned the respect and good will of the Republicans of the county by his manly bearing in the canvass and since its conclusion.

WE learn from the St. Louis Democrat that the State of Illinois is constructing a levee to keep the American Bottom, opposite St. Louis, from being overflowed by high water from the Mississippi. The Democrat says:

> The bottom lands referred to are located on what is known as Sny Island, a long slice of the territory of Illinois which has been cut off by a bayou, called "The Sny." The original name of this creek was Chenal Ecarte. It was subsequently, and by the brawny lips of the frontiersmen who knew no French, contracted by a mysterious elision into "Snycarte," and finally into "Sny," without any prefix or suffix whatever. The island contains just 100,000 acres of land, whose soil in dry seasons produces probably the largest crops of corn and wheat to the acre grown on the continent. Owing, however, to the frequent overflows, its cultivation is hazardous, and its value is hardly that of a song. The improvement consists in merely building a levee from the Illinois mainland to the north of the island, across the head of the bayou that forms it, and along the bank to the foot of the island, leaving the bayou open to drain off the water. The work was commenced in September last, and until the cold weather and horse disease put a stop to it, was pushed vigorously. At present over twenty miles have been built, which is less than half the number required. As soon as the high water abates a large force of men will again be put in the field and the work will be completed, it is promised, by fall.

WANT TO BE SHAKEN UP.

Some men are never contented; and here is a Democratic editor who wants to get out of the Slough of Despond, and to be wakened into activity by getting a good shaking up. "The Democracy, just now," it says, "are sorely in want of true and tried leaders," and adds:

> There never was a time, perhaps, when our party was so strong in numbers and so poorly provided with leaders. If a great political struggle was pending, we should be at a loss for generals to husband and direct our strength, and the enemy might win a victory solely through our lack of discipline. Our great men all seem to have subsided into nothingness, and the small fry are making asses of themselves in the desperate attempt to convince the people that they are somebody.
>
> Politically, everything seems dead in the Democratic camp. In a dull, stupid, half-asleep sort of a way, we manage to plod along, and always poll at every election just enough votes to allow ourselves to be counted out. Then we waken up a little, feebly cry out "fraud! fraud!" swear a couple of times, and then—go to sleep again.
> Now, this won't do. We must either wake up and do as a party ought to do, or else we must get out of the way for some other organization that has more spunk. County, State and National, as a party we need a shaking up.

The Standard mistakes the condition of its party. It is dead; not asleep. The apparent vitality shown by it last year was the result of the galvanic shocks administered to it by the Liberals and was only the semblance of life. There are no leaders potent enough to resurrect it, or put new life into its veins. They may dress up the corpse, trick it out in its best clothes, and parade it as the living and genuine article; but the sardonic grin of death is on its colorless face too palpably to be mistaken.

RAILROAD VS. CANAL.

In view of the agitation of the subject of transportation by water as a means of counteracting the alleged extortion of the railway companies, considerable interest attaches to certain facts lately published regarding the financial condition of the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal. Some readers may need to be reminded that Cumberland in Maryland, and Georgetown, in the District of Columbia, are the termini of that great work. From a statement presented, a few days ago, at the annual meeting of the stockholders, it appears that the income of the canal for the month of May, 1873, was only seven hundred dollars more than the income for the corresponding month of last year, a fact which under all the circumstances of the case indicates nothing less than a comparative decrease of its revenue.

This decline of income is satisfactorily accounted for without disparagement to the management of the work. In fact, it is, as the Baltimore American clearly shows, the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad that is destroying the prosperity of the canal. The success of the railroad must be ascribed to two principal causes. In the first place, Baltimore has great advantages over Georgetown, the terminus of the canal, as a depot of coastwise shipment. While the market presented at the latter place is uncertain and precarious, the market presented at the former place is certain and nearly if not quite invariable. Ocean steamers and other vessels needing coal for their own use or as cargoes, frequent the harbor of Baltimore, and are seldom if ever seen at Georgetown. Then the relatively low freights by water from the former place quite compensate the advantage accruing from the lower rates on cargoes conveyed by canal to the latter place. In a word, as our contemporary remarks, "the terminus of the canal is something like a road that ends in the woods."

But even without such incidental advantages a railroad in rivalry with a canal in the present age of the world, necessarily comes off the victor. To their competition the scriptural apothegm does not apply, as in their struggle the race is to the swift and the battle to the strong. Among men of business of all classes the conviction is universal, founded on experience, that it is better for them to pay the comparatively high railroad rates and secure rapid transit than to incur the risks of slow transportation. Some men might prefer the cautious economy of the slower machinery, but where the railroad exists and offers its opportunities to those who are disposed to use them, all, under penalty of loss and perhaps ruin, are forced to follow the example of the more enterprising. The more energetic and effectual agency inevitably supersedes the agency of inferior advantages. The canal was adapted to the entire system of life and business methods of a slower age and a less stirring generations, and seems to belong almost as completely to the past as the flail or the stage coach. All three are still useful where the modern substitutes for any reason cannot be procured or applied, but even there the tendency, at least in this country, to get rid of them appears irresistible.

This is certainly true as regards the United States at present; whether or not it will continue true when the population shall have become more dense and the land increased in value, is a question still to be decided. M. MALEZIEUX, Engineer-in-chief of bridges and roads in France, lately visited this country as a commissioner of the French government for the purpose of examining our public works, and the Revue des deux Mondes, of the 15th of March, contained an article on the subject founded on his report. Having stated that, with the exception of the New York State system and a few other canals favorably situated, our navigable routes have succumbed to the railroads,—the writer says: "M. MALEZIEUX attributes this result in part to the inexperience of American engineers in the subject of hydraulic works; but he also acknowledges that railroads possess the inestimable advantage of connecting by long, continuous lines the seaports with the cities of the interior, and even of penetrating to the pits of the mines and to the interior of the manufactures." The small value of land, the sparseness of our population, the levelness of the ground, and the simplicity of construction which is here deemed sufficient, are also mentioned as reasons why Americans prefer railroads to water routes. About the fact there can be no doubt, and whatever changes time may bring about, for the present the advocates of other modes of transportation engage in a hopeless task.

A SCHEME USEFUL AND ROMANTIC.

A local German contemporary gives some account of the last annual report of the Pennsylvania German Press Union. This association was founded several years ago, and its meeting of the present year was held at Allentown on the 23d of May, where and when the report referred to was read. The labors of the Union seem to be chiefly confined to the eastern counties of the State, the western being very slightly if at all represented in the membership of the society. As we gather from the statement before us, the object of the Union appears to be to revive and maintain the interest of the German element in their national or hereditary habits of thought and feeling, and especially in their language. From the first the object of the Union has not been only to introduce the German language as a subject of instruction in English schools, but to promote the establishment of German-English or English-German common or popular schools, in which both languages should have equal rights and be equally well taught and learned. The Union claims a good measure of success in carrying out this object. Important assistance in the work has been received from the German clergy, and the co-operation of the press and the pulpit is declared in the report essential to the prosperity of the enterprise, the elevation of the German character and the advancement of the German language. As a means to the same end it is proposed to improve the German provincial or village newspapers, and to render them more interesting and instructive to the people. The preservation of the purity of the German language is mentioned as an important subsidiary object. Germans are constantly, it seems, exposed to the temptation of mingling, both in speech and writing, English words and phrases with their German, a temptation which only direct effort suffices to resist. Hence it is that many immigrant Germans soon fall into the habit of speaking their mother tongue so ill, not a few of them beginning to say yes and no instead of ja and nein before they have gone ten steps from Castle Garden, or are able rightly to understand ten English words. This bad habit, so detrimental to sound culture, the German press must combat, and by its example diffuse and maintain pure, genuine German among the people.

Another agency which the Press Union suggests for the accomplishment of its object is the founding of German Sunday schools, to afford opportunity for supplying deficiencies to the many thousands of children and young adults in Pennsylvania who already speak but cannot read German, and who read but cannot speak English. HERR PROBST, the author of the report, looks to this institution as one of the best means of successfully settling the much mooted and exciting Sunday question.

A further requisite or agency in the cause of reform is "the introduction of the noble, morally edifying and elevating German popular songs and the improvement of German singing in churches, schools and families."

In conclusion the report administers a severe rebuke of the mutual prejudices and dislike with which Pennsylvania Germans and Germans of the more recent immigrations are apt to regard each other.

Whatever one may think of the wisdom or practicability of the precise object which the Press Union has in view, one cannot but look for some good results from the use of the means which it proposes to employ. Good farmers, and most industrious people for the most part, the Germans of Eastern Pennsylvania, who still retain their own language, more or less corrupted, and most of their hereditary customs, are in great need of some such efforts for their elevation as those described above. If they could be induced to take an interest in the world beyond the limits of their farms, to take pleasure in books, or even in newspapers, and to love song and music, the gain would be great to themselves and finally to the Commonwealth. One can sincerely wish the Press Union God-speed in its useful undertaking, not to be refused the praise of philanthropy, because it has an eye to the circulation of its newspapers as well as to the growth of Germanism. And the Union is entitled to the heartier recognition because its scheme is neither one-sided nor fanatical. The Union does not seek to suppress the language of the country.

We fear, however, that the members of the Union are cherishing some hopes destined to disappointment. Thus the notion that Germans living among Americans may keep their language free from English admixture is romantic in a high degree. And still more romantic is the hope that newspapers may be made the instruments of maintaining the purity of popular speech, a suggestion which flatly ignores the nature of their agency in the past. But perhaps both these ideas are commonplace and rational in comparison with the notion that the mass of any people, of whatever nationality, absorbed in the business of life, getting their bread, making money, talking politics, etc., may be induced to feel any real concern about the mixture of languages or the philological purity of their vocables.

AT A meeting of an Episcopal Diocesan Convention in St. Louis, last week, a spirited debate grew out of a gift of money made by Congressman Erastus Welles to the Orphans' Home, an institution under the patronage of the Convention. Several clergymen protested vigorously against the reception of the money, as it was a part of the back-pay plunder. The Rev. Mr. Holland said it seemed to him that if the nation has a conscience, that conscience should be the Church. Without reflecting personally on Mr. Welles, with whom he was not in any manner acquainted, he insisted that the way in which the money given to the Orphans' Home was obtained was dishonest; and although the managers of the Home had accepted it it was impossible for the Convention, as the legislative body of the Church, to put on record that it ecclesiastically and religiously endorsed the men who are now on trial before the nation for their behavior in this matter. Dr. Berkley thought that as the money had been paid into the treasury of the Home, the question of its reception was already settled, and said that if one hundred dollars were placed in the collection box on Sunday by a gambler, it might with as much propriety be returned as this money, which is supposed to have been stolen from the government. It was finally concluded that as the money had been formally accepted by the Orphans' Home, no further action should be taken; but several members of the Convention presented a written protest against this conclusion, requesting that it should go upon the record.

THE area of the thirty-seven States in the United States, as shown by the recent census, is 1,984,467 square miles, and the average population about nineteen and one-fifth persons to a square mile. In 1860, the average population of the States was eighteen and one-tenth persons to a square mile, and in 1850 nearly fifteen persons. The entire area of the country, Territories as well as States, aggregates 3,603,884 square miles, the surface of the Territories being 1,619,417 square miles. In the Territories the population averages about one person to four square miles, whilst in 1860 it was one in five square miles. There is, therefore, "ample room and verge enough" for the tens of thousands starting every week or two from European ports to cast their lots in our country.

THE American Grocer, organ of the wholesale grocery trade of New York, says something interesting about sugar. It declares, to the satisfaction of every housekeeper, that sugars will be abundant and cheap. The crops in all producing countries are very large, and as the beet root crop of Europe will this year yield an estimated amount of 1,100,000 tons, an increase of 220,000 tons over the yield of last year, this will go far towards supplying the wants of Europe and lessen the demand from that quarter for cane sugars by an equal amount. The consequence will be that a greater amount of raw sugar than ever before will seek the market in this country, and, consequently, keep prices low during the summer months notwithstanding an increased consumption.

THE homicidal mania is prevailing in Virginia as well as elsewhere, seven murders having been committed in that State during the last two weeks. A mulatto woman was murdered by her paramour; a sailor was thrown into the river and drowned by two of his comrades after a quarrel about a woman; a young man named Ford had his throat cut and his body thrown into the Chickahominy by his rival in the affections of a young lady; two other murders, the parties being colored, were the consequences of quarrels over small sums of money, and the death-roll was completed on Sunday last by two women, residing near Suffolk, Nansemond county, having their brains beaten out by parties who afterwards robbed the house.

Duyckinck's "Cyclopedia of American Literature," having been revised to date, with 150 pages of new matter incorporated into the body of the book, is to be re-issued by Zell in fifty semi-monthly parts at half a dollar each. It will make two quarto volumes of about a thousand pages each.

Commissioners have been selected by the Ordnance Bureau of the War and Navy Departments to go abroad for the purpose of inspecting all improvements in ordnance, and especially heavy guns. This will be the first Commission of the kind ever sent from this branch of the navy, and the only one from the War Department for over thirty years.

The nomenclature of the Western mines is significant and striking. Thus, we read of the "Clara Belle de Blik mine," and are informed that it is "so named in consequence of its peterning once. Another mine is known as "the Epizootic," in commemoration, obviously, of the visitation from the horse disease.

Over five million acres of land are open for homesteads and pre-emption in Dakota.

In a foundling hospital connected with the Gray Nursery at Montreal there were six hundred and forty-two deaths out of the six hundred and eighty-three children received during the year; a frightful mortality truly. The Catholic Witness says that "if only forty-one have been saved to the earthly community, six hundred and forty-three have been gained to the "Heavenly Jerusalem," which, though very pretty and all that, don't dissipate the suspicion that there is shameful mismanagement about the way in which this hospital is conducted.

One peculiarity of the late electric storms in Southern Iowa was that the electric current ascended from the earth as well as descended to it. On several occasions, bright flashes of flame, and even balls of fire, shot suddenly upward from the earth to greet the hovering clouds.

For the past two years increasing numbers of real canvas back ducks have been killed on Lake Koshkonong, in Wisconsin, where they feed on a species of celery, which is identical with that found in Chesapeake Bay. This bird is very rare north of Maryland or Virginia, and is esteemed the finest for the table of the entire species.

A farmer in Havana county, Ill., claims that pine trees keep off malarious diseases. He planted some a few years ago and they are now twenty-five feet high.

A seemingly reliable report states that 'Squire Spaulding has discovered a vein of iron ore two feet thick on his farm in Van Buren township, Daviess county, Ind. The vein will yield forty-one per cent. of pure ore.

A correspondent of a New York paper suggests, as a substitute for hanging, to deprive criminals of sight, and thus render them harmless for the future.

The latest reform spoken of in New York is reform in church music, which is said to be growing too sensational.

The San Francisco Bulletin says two-thirds of the bad crops in that State are due to bad farming.

Experiments have been instituted in Berlin to ascertain whether the gas, with which the soil in large cities is impregnated, does harm to the roots of trees and shrubs.

PERSONAL.

Ex-Senator Nye and Senator Hitchcock, of Nevada, will sail for Europe to-day.

Among the Kickapoo warriors slain during General McKenzie's recent raid into Mexico was one of gigantic size, measuring seven feet in height, and stout in proportion.

The Rev. H. W. Beecher is advised by his physicians to spend the summer in Colorado. He is a victim of annual hay fever.

The sensational reporters of the Modoc capture make the most of the fact that Captain Jack keeps his mouth shut. He has adopted that policy to avoid showing how completely he has put his foot in it.

A notable will, in some respects, was that left by the late Dudley P. Rogers, of Salem, Massachusetts. First, he bequeathed $15,000 to the "Salem Fraternity," the income to be used in providing such innocent amusements as its officers "may consider best calculated to attract and draw from the streets of Salem the young men and women who have no place to turn to in the evening for amusement but the streets." Then the sum of $5,000 was left in trust, its income to be devoted to the support of certain favorite animals of his as long as they live, and at their death to be placed in the other fund.

A son of Gen. D. H. Hill ("Parson Brownlow's man") has been appointed a cadet at West Point, where his father, the General, graduated in 1842, in the same graduating class with Earl Van Dorn, Longstreet and John Pope.

Lydia Murray, a practical woman's rights advocate, who follows the calling of cab driver, has lately been fined $5 for fast driving in a London street. She paid up like a true Jehu, and drove to Marylebone, to the admiration of a crowd of men and boys.

The death is announced, at the age of seventy, from heart disease, of Baron Seilliere, the well-known banker, and a distinguished member of high Parisian society. He was also a man of considerable erudition, and a great amateur of rare curiosities. He leaves, both in his hotel of the Rue Saint Dominique and in his chateau of Mello, a collection of books and works of art which might be envied by the richest museums. The Baron had four children, one of them, a daughter, married to the Prince de Sagan; and three sons, one of whom has been long connected with the banking establishment.

The result of the examination of the cadets at the Annapolis Naval Academy has proven rather disastrous to two notable and prominent wards of the institution—Conyers the colored cadet, and O'Keefe, the New York news boy. A lack of brains has entitled each of them to a recommendation from the Board to the Secretary of the Navy to dispense with their further connection in this branch of the service, and as the Department in Washington generally acts upon the suggestions of the Academy officials, the sequence, that those two, together with others, will be dropped from the list, is unquestionable. Both of them failed at the February examination; but leniency gave them another and final chance.

Lord Chief Justice Cockburn has just made a joke. A Mrs. Jury being examined as a witness in the Tichborne case, stated that she had had eleven children, whereupon His Honor observed he had always understood it took twelve to make a jury. England is still echoing the laugh which convulsed the Court.

A good Maine farmer, who sold a load of hay in Lewiston the other day, became convinced, on reaching home and thinking it over, that the load could not have weighed as much as represented, and so the next day he drove into town again, and insisted that his customer should receive back $4, for he was "sure there must be a mistake somewhere."

Miss Leo Hudson, whose horse, Black Bess, was killed a few weeks ago while performing in St. Louis, and who was seriously injured at the same time, died on Monday from grief and the attendant results of the accident. She was born in Leesburg, Virginia, March 22, 1843, and will be buried in Baltimore. She went upon the stage at the age of twelve years.

It is interesting to notice a man of tender corns on a croquet ground. He will stand around, always in the way, until some sunny haired maiden croquets on his pet toe, and then he will throw his mallet wildly among the players and go waltzing off on one leg among the shrubbery, choking himself black in the face with exclamations he dare not utter, while the maiden will smile serenely and murmur, "Oh, Mr. F—, I did not mean to."

By a curious coincidence, while the splendid coffin of Admiral Rigault de Genouilly was passing through the streets of Paris, a humble procession accompanied to the last resting place the remains of Prince Iturbide, of Mexico, who had lived very quietly at Neuilly for sometime past.

The office of a President of the Bavarian Academy of Science and Conservator General of Scientific Museums in Bavaria having become vacant by the death of Baron Liebig, the post has been conferred upon Dr. Von Dollinger. King Louis advised the Doctor of his appointment by an autograph letter.

Dr. Charles Brown, of Albermarle, Virginia, aged one hundred and odd, is gone to England to prosecute his claim to an enormous inheritance.

Miss Smilie, the celebrated Quakeress, is building a cottage near the Mansion House, Saratoga.

Captain Jack's capitulation is variously accounted for. The truth, says the New York Commercial, seems to be, however, that he had previously consulted a prominent criminal lawyer in this city, and took his resolution upon receipt of the following telegram:

Summer.

Although the mother of myriads of beautiful flowers, is apt to steal the roses from the cheeks of those who are exposed to its fiery breath. At this season if there are any germs of disease in the system the heat is pretty sure to develop them. The bilious, the dyspeptic, the nervous, the debilitated, suffer more at this period of the year than at any other. They, therefore, require an invigorating and regulating medicine, and this desideratum has been placed within the reach of all in the form of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. To recount the uses of this invaluable preventive and remedy, seems like repeating a familiar fact that has been notorious everywhere for many, many years. Who does not know that dyspepsia, billious disorders, constipation, diarrhœal affections, rheumatism, nervous complaints, kidney disturbances, and constitutional weakness, in both sexes, are relieved and radically cured by this powerful yet harmless vegetable preparation?

You can bet your bottom dollar—That there exists no case of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Swelling, or Stiff Joints, which the Centaur Liniment, white wrapper, will not alleviate and cure.

Mark the difference. It is the Centaur Liniment, yellow wrapper, which is again placing so many used up horses in the harness. We care not whether the case be Spavins, Sweeney, Scratches, Strains, or any Swelling—the effect is simply wonderful.

Children Cry—for Pitcher's Castoria. It regulates the stomach, cures wind colic and causes natural sleep. It is a substitute for castor oil. TThs*

PROPOSALS.

PROPOSALS FOR POSTOFFICE ENVELOPES.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 14, 1873.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this Department until THURSDAY, the 19th day of June, 1873, at 12 o'clock m., for furnishing, in such quantities and at such times as may be required, the following described Postoffice Envelopes, for a period of one year, commencing on the 1st day of July, 1873, to wit:

For Official Letters and Returns.

No. 1, size 3¼ by 5⅝ inches; estimated number required annually 5,000,000.

No. 2, size 3½ by 6¼ inches; estimated number required annually, 750,000.

No. 3, size 4 by 9 inches; estimated number required annually, 1,250,000.

No. 4, size 4⅛ by 10⅜ inches; estimated number required annually, 500,000.

For Registered Packages.

No. 5, size 5 by 10⅜ inches; estimated number required annually, 4,000,000.

The estimates given are intended as a guide to bidders. The Department may require more or less of each kind as the service may demand.

Bids must be made for each kind of Envelope (official and registered packages) separately, and the contract will be awarded for each kind to the lowest responsible bidder.

Samples of the different sizes and styles of Envelopes required, together with blank forms or bids, will be furnished on application to the Third Assistant Postmaster General.

The envelopes must strictly conform in size, quality of paper, gumming and make, to the samples, the gumming on the flaps or lappets to be done in the best manner by hand. The envelopes must be banded in parcels of twenty-five, packed in strong pasteboard or straw boxes, securely bound with linen or cotton cloth on the corners and edges, each to contain not less than 250 of sizes Nos. 1 and 2, and not less than 100 of the other sizes, or otherwise, as may be ordered, the boxes to be wrapped in strong manilla paper, and properly sealed, so as to bear safe transportation by mail to postmasters. When required to be delivered at the Department, the wrapping may be dispensed with, in the discretion of the Postmaster General.

When 2,000 or more Envelopes are required to fill the order of a postmaster, or when large lots are ordered to be sent to the Postoffice Department, they must be packed in strong wooden cases and properly addressed, but when less than 2,000 are required to be sent by mail, proper labels of direction must be placed on each package; all to be done by the contractor without additional charge.

The Envelopes must be delivered in such quantities as may from time to time be required to fill orders of postmasters or of the Department, and be delivered either at the postoffice in the city where the accepted bidder resides, or at this Department, as the Postmaster General may direct, free of cost for packing, labeling, and delivering; the whole to be done under the inspection and supervision of an agent of the Department.

All the Envelopes herein described must bear such printing as the Postmaster General may direct, and the Registered Package Envelopes will be required to be printed in Vermillion or some other approved brilliant color.

The Postmaster General reserves the right to reject any and all bids if in his judgment the interests of the Government require it.

Each proposal must be signed by the individual or firm making it, and be accompanied by a guarantee certified to be responsible and sufficient by the Postmaster or United States Attorney where the bidder resides, that the bidder shall, within ten days after being called upon to do so, execute a contract to furnish promptly, and in quantities as ordered, the article or articles awarded to him, to be accompanied by a bond with approved security, in a penalty of not less than twice the contract price of all the articles estimated to be furnished by the bidder, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the same.

Proposals unaccompanied by such guarantee will not be considered.

The Postmaster General reserves to himself the right to annul the contract if in his judgment there shall be a failure to perform faithfully any of its stipulations, or in case of a wilful attempt to impose upon the Department Envelopes inferior to samples. The failure to comply with any one order under the contract will operate as a forfeiture of the entire penalty of the bond under the 7th section of the act of Congress, approved August 26, 1842, entitled "An act legalizing and making appropriations for such necessary objects as have been usually included in the general appropriation bills without authority of law and to fix and provide for certain incidental expenses of the Departments and offices of the Government, and for other purposes," (U. S. Statutes at Large, Vol 5, pages 256;) or the Postmaster General may, in his discretion, direct the purchase in open market of such quantities of Envelopes as shall be necessary to supply the deficiency caused by such failure, and charge to the contractor or contractors fifty per centum of the price which it shall be found necessary to pay for such articles.

Bids should be securely enveloped and sealed, marked "Proposals for Post Office Envelops," and addressed to the Third Assistant Postmaster General, Post Office Department, Washington, D. C.

JOHN A. J. CRESWELL,
Postmaster General.

PEARL WHEAT IS WITHOUT DOUBT THE MOST
Delicious, Wholesome and Nourishing
Preparation of nature's great food ever produced. Essentially nothing but the woody fibre and a portion of the water are removed by the process, leaving all the starch, gluten and the greatest part of the mineral substances (phosphates), all that is nourishing in the wheat. The removal of the woody fibre make it far more palatable than the various preparations of wheat now in the market. No other article of food contains such proper proportions of the requirements of the whole human system. To those suffering from INDIGESTION, DYSPEPSIA, and to persons of sedentary habit, it will prove invaluable. As a BREAKFAST DISH it is unequaled. Our best physicians here say it is of more importance than anything else that can be found. Try it once and you will never be without it. Ask your Grocer or Druggist for a Package. FINANCE AND TRADE.

FRIDAY EVENING, June 6, 1873.

During the last session of Congress the following law was passed:

"The Secretary of the Treasury is directed to withhold all payments to any railroad company and its assignees on account of freights or transportation over their roads of any kind to the amount of the payments made by the United States for interest upon the bond of the United States issued to any such company, and which shall not have been reimbursed, together with five per cent. of the net earnings due and unapplied, as provided by law. Any such company may bring suit in the Court of Claims to recover the price of such freight, and in such suit the right of such company to recover the same upon the law and facts of the case shall be determined, and also the rights of the United States upon the merits of all the points presented by it in answer thereto by them, and either party to such suit may appeal to the Supreme Court, and both Courts shall give such cause or causes precedence of all other business."

In accordance with the above, the Secretary is withholding all dues of the government to the Pacific Railroads, as an offset against the interest paid by the Treasury on the subsidy bonds. The companies have the right of appeal to the Court of Claims for redress, which we hope they may do, in order that the question of the right of the government to so withhold funds due the roads may be judicially settled.

The amount of interest paid by the government and not repaid by the companies, now exceeds fourteen millions dollars. At the present rate of increase it will in a few years be twice that amount, and by the time the bonds issued by the United States to these roads matures, the interest will be greater than the principal. The effect of this movement has been to depress all the Pacific Railroad securities, with a sympathizing effect on the rest of the market.

—The Farmers' movement of the West has increased to such an extent that railroad men are taking alarm, and many holders of both stock and bonds are selling out in anticipation of a serious decline in railroad securities.

These are some of the causes which are depressing the whole market, thereby entailing large losses on present holders.

One good effect, however, from which the business public will gain an advantage is that it will not require half the money to "carry" stocks that it did last year, and will thus tend to ease the money market.

—Messrs. Ira B. McVay & Co. report the following quotations of government bonds in New York to-day, as furnished them by Jay Cook & Co., their correspondent:

	Noon.	Eve.
U. S. Bonds of 1881	122⅞	122¾
U. S. Bonds of 1862	116⅝	116⅝

New 5s	115⅛	115⅜
Gold	118⅛	118⅛
Currency 6s	113⅜	113⅜

—James T. Brady & Co., corner of Fourth avenue and Wood street, quoted United States securities in New York to-day as follows:

Gold	118⅛
United States 6s of 1881	122¾
United States 5-20s of 1862	116⅜
United States 5-20s of 1864	116⅝
United States 5-20s of 1865	118⅜
United States 10-40s	114⅛
United States 5-20s, January and July, 1865	119⅝
United States 5-20s, January and July, 1867	121⅞
United States 5-20s, January and July, 1868	120¼
Currency Pacifics	113⅜

—The local money market continues quiet, the banks being able without difficulty to take care of their customers, yet there seems to be no surplus pressing the market for takers, a condition of affairs we are not apt to reach during the present season.

Among the banks there is a very great scarcity of Eastern funds, exchange on New York selling freely at the express rates for currency; a state of things uncommon in this market, and one which will in thirty days change to the other side, for as soon as the wool season sets fairly in there will be such a supply of exchange received from the East that currency will be likely to command a premium.

—The following table shows the prices of railway stocks, gold, &c., at the various sessions of the New York Stock Exchange during the day, furnished by George I. Whitney, Esq., broker and dealer in stocks, bonds and gold, corner of Fifth avenue and Wood street:

Cattle.

The receipts of cattle since our last report have been fair of cattle going East and light of stock to be sold here. Advices received from the East the past twenty-four hours are better and show an improved state of markets there. These advices, together with the light run, have had a good effect in making our markets more active. Yesterday morning buyers became more anxious to purchase, and sellers had no difficulty in closing out at full last week's rates. All dealers agree in reporting trade active and market improving, though as yet prices no higher. The prospects at this time indicate a firm market toward the close.

PRICES.

Extra 1,400 to 1,500 lb steers, fine and smooth, $6 50; extra 1,300 lb steers, fine and smooth, $6 25; extra 1,200 lb steers, fine and smooth, $6 10 to $6 25; prime 1,100 lb steers, fine and smooth, $5 75 to $6 00; fair 1,000 lb steers, fine and smooth, $5 55 to $5 75; stockers, $5 25 to $5 50; bulls, $3 75 to $4 50; fresh cows, $34 to $60.

Hogs.

The run of hogs during the past two days was heavy and the stock of excellent quality. The market is as bad and the indications are for a worse state of trade the next forty-eight hours. The supply is largely in excess of the demand, and a good deal of stock is shipping out on first hands. Prices are off since our last report from 25c to 30c on Philadelphia, and from 30c to 50c on Yorkers. Following are the rates current:

Extra Philadelphia, $4 90a5 05; prime Philadelphia, $4 75a4 85; Yorkers $4 50 to $4 60.

Sheep.

The arrivals of sheep are fair. The market has slightly improved since our last report. A drove of sheep from Licking county, Ohio, averaging 103 lbs, sold for $5 65 per hundred lbs. The same bunch would not have brought over $5 50 at the opening of the market on Tuesday. Trade moderately active and prices steady at the following:

Extra 100 lbs, fine wool, $5 65; extra 95 lbs, fine wool, $5 55; prime 90 lbs, fine wool, $5 25 to $5 30; prime 85 lbs, fine wool, $5 00.

IRON MARKETS.

CLEVELAND.

June 4.—The hardware trade has been rather quiet, and prices have weakened on bar iron, nails and tin plate since our last. Prices of general hardware remain materially the same.

Bar iron has dropped to $3 90, with special rates for large cash lots, $3 80.

Nails have declined to $4 75, and tin plate to $14 50 for I. C. 10x14, and $13 for I. C. 14x20, roofing.

The pig iron market continues comparatively inactive, but prices are firm and no change is to be mentioned. Foundry irons are in moderate request but for present delivery and immediate use only. The Western trade has assumed an encouraging aspect within the past fortnight, and numerous sales are noted for Western shipment.

Mill irons are dull and most of the mills have purchased all the iron they need to work up into orders now on their books.

Lake Superior charcoal continues firm, with limited quantities for present delivery. The high grades for car wheel and malleable use are in urgent demand, and the supply is very limited. Numbers four, five and six are selling as high as $67, four months.

The Scotch market continues dull, with no sales in large quantity. We quote as follows:

LAKE SUPERIOR CHARCOAL FOR CAR WHEELS AND MALLEABLE USE.

Reaction in Prices of Iron.

[From the Bulletin of the American Iron and Steel Association, June 4.]

The price of iron is weakening everywhere—in the United States, in England, in Belgium and in France. The cause is the same in each country—the demand for finished iron has fallen off. Consumers, especially the railroads, have for some time been buying as little as possible, the market being too high for them, and only such orders as were absolutely necessary have been given out. Work on new railroads has in many cases been suspended, and on projected railroads not undertaken at all, for this reason, and because also of the financial stringency which makes it difficult to negotiate their bonds. In the United States there will be one thousand miles less railroad built in 1873 than sanguine writers have predicted. In the bar iron trade in the United States and England there is much depression, and many puddling furnaces are standing idle because of a dearth of orders. In the United States nails have fallen to a remarkably low figure. Pig iron in this country has held its own better than finished iron, but prices have given way at last and they can not recover. The production of pig iron has overtaken the demand for it. In England the price of pig iron still keeps up, but only at the expense of the other branches of the trade. Coal, however, has commenced to decline, and pig iron must soon sympathise with it. Such, at least, is the tenor of our latest advices.

Undoubtedly the high prices hitherto prevailing have not been the sole cause of the recent diminished demand for iron, but with a moderate reaction in these prices there should be increased activity in the iron trade of the world. Lower prices for pig iron will enable the mills to increase their production and to make contracts which will suit the views of purchasers. One thing is certain; there will not be any crisis in the iron business anywhere. The reaction cannot be in the slightest degree disastrous to the iron producers as a class. They can well afford to adapt themselves to the new situation, under which they will have an ampler guarantee of steady demand and permanent prosperity than they could hope for with prices as they have been.

STOCK EXCHANGE.

Stocks opened firm, but Pacific Mail soon became weak and had a tendency to depress the rest of the market. In the afternoon the depression became more marked and general, and the decline with more activity followed. The largest sales were in Pacific Mail and Ohios, the former declined from 41⅛ to 38⅜ and the latter from 41⅛ to 38⅜. At the close Pacific Mail was down to the lowest point of the day, but Ohios recovered to 39⅛. The decline in Ohios was due to reports of an unauthorized issue of bonds, the fact being that the issue is to obtain steel rails and is authorized. The expected report of the Pacific Mail Directors is not ready for publication. Lake Shore and Union Pacific have been comparatively steady, which is attributed to purchases by parties controlling the two companies. The market closed feverish and unsettled.

Wheeling	Mallie Ragon	Williamson, 1 P. M.
Geneva	West Virginia	Donaldson, 7 A. M.

THE marks last evening indicated three feet ten inches and rising slowly. The weather was warm. Business on the landing was improving.

THE Mallie Ragan was detained, but will leave to-day.

The Mollie Ebert is loading at St. Louis for this city.

THE steamer Mary Forsythe was partially insured in Cincinnati.

THE Exchange is to leave the Cincinnati ways on Tuesday next.

THE towboat Hawkeye left St. Louis for the Ohio river with 1,200 tons ore.

THE steamer Granite State, Captain Kerr, left for Portsmouth with all the freight she wanted.

THE steamer Messenger, Captain Cock, is en route to this city, having passed Cairo on Wednesday.

THE light draught steamer West Virginia, Captain Donaldson, takes her departure this day, 7 P. M., for Brownsville and Geneva.

THE towboat Fearless and barges, in charge of Capt. Bickerstaff, is loading for St. Louis and the Upper Mississippi and will leave on the first water.

THE mail packets in the slackwater leave daily at 8 A. M and 5 P. M. These boats have superior accommodations, and are in charge of careful and gentlemanly officers. For further particulars call on Captain A. S. Carlile, who knows all about it.

THE fine steamer Mallie Ragon, Capt. Williamson, takes her departure this day at 1 P. M. for Wheeling and intermediate ports. The boat has the best of accommodations and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. The first clerk is Mr. Voightly.

ST. LOUIS.—J. K. Booth, the Ohio river barge man, was on 'Change, the other day, just in from the Arkansas Hot Springs. He had an agreeable time fishing with Capt. Geo. W. Ford and Jake Sedam. Capt. Booth will leave this morning for Cincinnati.

THE Salvor No. 2 arrived at St. Louis, from the wreck of the W. J. Lewis. She had on board all the machinery of the Lewis except the larboard shaft, which she could not raise; also, 400 bars railroad iron taken from the wreck. She took the whole battery (three boilers) out complete. The machinery of the Lewis goes on Capt. E. W. Gould's new towboat being built at Jeffersonville.

THE Era No. 10 arrived at Shreveport from above the raft last week with 874 bales of cotton. She went up as far as Kiamitia, and Capt. Lancaster reports that all the cotton is now nearly out of the upper country, a good deal having gone to the M., K. and T. R. R. He took some from wagons at Kiamitia loaded for the railroad. The river is rising all the way down, with some of the low places under water. There had been very heavy rains along the upper end of the river.

THE decision of Judge Love, of the United States District Court, at Keokuk, in favor of John Atlee, a saw mill owner of Fort Madison, has been reversed in the United States Circuit Court, sitting at Des Moines. This was an action in which the Northern Line Packet Company claimed damages for an injury resulting to one of their boats by running into a pier which Atlee built in the river for the purpose of breaking the force of the current, and making a harbor for his sawlogs. Atlee is now held liable for the full amount of the damages.

THE Louisville Courier-Journal of Thursday says: Captain W. S. Packer, one of the heaviest coal merchants of Pittsburgh, is in the city. He has just returned from New Orleans and points below. He informs us that there is more coal at the different points along the banks of the Lower Mississippi than ever before at one time at this season of the year. He has at his different depots 80 large boats, containing at least 1,800,000 bushels of coal. This, of itself, is enough to supply all the steamboats now running for some time to come.

SUNDAY, while the raftboat Mollie Mohler was lowering her chimneys at Dubuque, she became unmanageable, and was carried against the bridge, and lost her pilot house and chimneys. Capt. George Harpman, who was at the wheel, kept his position until she struck the bridge, when, with a coolness characteristic of him, he reached up, caught hold of the bridge and pulled himself up, ran across to the other side, and, when the boat drifted through, he quietly stepped on board again. Fortunately no one was injured by the accident, and the damage to the boat will not probably exceed one hundred and fifty dollars.

ST. LOUIS—The Republican says: All of the ore now on the bank at the pile is near the edge of the bank, and is still submerged by water since the late rise in the river, and cannot be got at. The receipts of ore at the pile by the Iron Mountain Railroad are about 5,000 tons per day, with which the barges are being loaded as fast as it arrives. The Wild Duck finished loading her two barges yesterday with 850 tons, and left in the evening for Pittsburgh. One barge for the Bigley and one barge for the Brown were also loaded yesterday. The Mississippi Valley Transportation Company have five of their towboats at the bank here at present—a rare occurrence. Two of these, the Atlantic and Crescent City, are laid up, and the other three, the Kellogg, Mary Alice and Bee, are waiting their turn to take a tow South.

THE stock of coal now between Cairo and New Orleans is 10,000,000 bushels, valued at $2,200,000. Cairo has 1,600,000 bushels; Memphis, 2,000,000; White river, five boats with 125,000 bushels, and more to be sent from Cairo; Arkansas City, twelve boats with 250,000 bushels; Vicksburg, twenty-five boats with 500,000 bushels; Natchez, twenty-five boats with 500,000 bushels; Red river, two boats with 45,000 bushels; Bayou Sara, ten boats and barges with 200,000 bushels; Baton Rouge has a small stock of only 25,000 bushels, and New Orleans 225 big boats, containing nearly 5,000,000 bushels. In addition to the above, small amounts have been distributed to several sugar plantations along the lower coast. The above supply is considered large and exceeds the stock of any former period. The selling rate between Cairo and New Orleans is from 50c to 75c per box of 180 pounds. Considerable of that at Cairo will be taken to St. Louis and points above for gas work.

THE Mobile Register, of Monday, says: On Friday last a number of negro divers, while engaged in picking up scraps of iron, etc., at the bottom of the river, came across large pieces of boilers at the foot of St. Francis street. Procuring scows and the necessary hoisting apparatus, they succeeded after much difficulty in raising some four or five sections of an old boiler, which, from their jagged ends and generally torn appearance are supposed to have belonged to the steamer Ben. Franklin. This steamer, on a Sunday morning, in the early part of the year 1837, as many of our old citizens will remember, while backing out from St. Francis street wharf, having aboard a large number of passengers, exploded her boilers, causing great loss of life. Now, after a lapse of thirty-six years, these boilers, which have been lying imbedded in the river, have been fished up and consigned to the junk shop. The iron was quite rotten and readily yielded to the blows of an ax. A steamboat anchor and other articles were found in the same locality, and the industrious and persevering divers made quite a profitable day's work.

THE following is the St. Louis Harbor Master's report for May, 1873:

FIRST MORTGAGE

SEVEN PER CENT.

GOLD BONDS.

THE BONDS OF THE

Indianapolis, Bloomington and Western Railway,

Now offered are a liability of the entire line of 420 MILES, four-fifths completed, and are SECURED COMPLETELY by a FIRST MORTGAGE on an extension of 217 miles. The Road passes through a section very rich in agricultural capabilities, and has an IMMENSE BUSINESS ALREADY EXISTING SECURED TO IT.

Earnings of 1872, on 202 miles, were $1,259,690 55, an increase of $395,000 over 1871. Regular trains are now running on 100 miles additional, and receipts for this year must realize a much larger gain.

These BONDS, $1,000 each, have an INTRINSIC VALUE greater than the present low price of 90 and INTEREST, and are sure to be PROFITABLE as an investment. The option given holders to exchange for Stock at par is of POSITIVE VALUE in view of the increasing business of the Road.

Emperor William Seriously Sick.

LONDON, June 6.—A special from Berlin says Emperor William is seriously sick, and his physicians advise him not to undertake the journey to Vienna.

Authenticity Denied.

LONDON, June 6.—A letter in this morning's paper, from M. Pietre, formerly private secretary to the Emperor Napoleon, denies the authenticity of the appeal of the ex-Empress to the French people, published yesterday afternoon.

French Ministerial Circular.

PARIS, June 6.—Duc De Broglie, Minister of Foreign Affairs, has addressed a circular letter to the representatives of France abroad, declaring the difference between the majority in the Assembly and Thiers, was on his domestic policy, which did not offer sufficient guarantees against revolution. The policy of the new government, he says, will be moderate at home and pacific abroad. All attempts at revolution will be vigorously opposed, without attacking the existing institutions.

The New Spanish Cortez—The Town of Irun in the Hands of the Carlists.

MADRID, June 6.—The Constituent Cortes is engaged in verifying the election of its members. The credentials of two hundred and sixty-nine Deputies have so far been approved. The government has resolved to leave the settlement of the forced paper currency question to the new Ministry, which will probably be formed as soon as the Cortes is in working order.

BAYONNE, June 6.—An attack on Irun was made by the Cure of Santa Cruz. The Carlists announce that it has been successful, and that the town is now in their hands. The Carlists shot twenty-seven carabineers captured near Irun. Great indignation is felt in Madrid at the atrocity, but the Carlists claim that these men first hoisted the white flag and then poured a volley into the Carlists as they approached. For this they were shot down without mercy.

MADRID, June 6.—The Gaceta publishes official dispatches confirming the reports of outrages and atrocities perpetrated on prisoners of war by Carlists at Irun and elsewhere.

MADRID, June 6.—The government will propose to the Cortes that it choose immediately a new Cabinet, and Ministers are now discussing the form of election. In the Cortes to-day Deputy Blane moved that after the proclamation of the Federal Republic the members of the Cortes place themselves at the head of the volunteers of their respective provinces, and unite in one grand effort to exterminate or drive from the country the Carlist insurgents.

Railroad Accident.

About five o'clock last evening, the four rear cars of a freight train jumped the track and were smashed up, near Nimick's station, on the Pan Handle Railroad. No one was injured, but the process of clearing the track of the debris was so laborious that passenger trains east and west were delayed an hour and a half.

School Exhibition.

The pupils of the Humbolt district, East Birmingham, gave an exhibition last evening in the Hall of their fine new building. There was a large attendance of parents and citizens, together with school officers of the city. The exhibition was every way creditable, and gave great pleasure to all who witnessed it.

Knights of Pythias Parade.

Great Western Lodge of Knights of Pythias turned out in parade last evening, about seventy-five strong, headed by the Great Western Brass Band, Prof. Weiss leader. The members of the lodge wore their new uniform, blue suit, sash, belt, sword and cap, and presented a very fine appearance. They were under command of D. D. G. C. Thomas G. Sample.

Small Fires in Allegheny.

Two fires occurred last evening in Allegheny, neither of which amounted to much. About six o'clock an alarm was sounded from box No. 3. This was caused by the burning of a shed belonging to Harper & Co., corner of Franklin street and Beaver avenue.

At half-past seven a fire broke out in Huckestine's brickyard. One shed was burned down, to the damage of the proprietor of about fifty dollars. No alarm was sounded.

The Mardis Brothers Released.

Yesterday afternoon, Scott Mardis and his brother Joseph, who have been some time in jail, awaiting their trial for passing counterfeit money, were released on bail. The amount required for Scott was $1,000, and, for Joseph, $2,000. A few days since the father of these young men offered himself as surety, but did not satisfy the Court of his pecuniary responsibility. Yesterday, however, Mr. Mardis was reinforced by Mr. John Stewart, of Buffington township, Indiana county, and their joint bond was accepted for the appearance of the prisoners.

Riot in Shaler Township.

On Wednesday the usual quiet of Shaler township was seriously disturbed by a disgraceful riot, which occurred on the premises of Mr. Charles Miller. A number of Mr. Miller's neighbors had been assisting at the raising of his barn, and in the evening were enjoying the traditional hospitality extended on such occasions, when another party in considerable force arrived, and by some means or other a fight was extemporized, in which nearly all present took part, and which, to several, proved disastrous in its consequences. Bloody noses and broken heads were shown in great numbers, and the more fragile furniture in Mr. Miller's house was reduced to convenient size for kindling fire in small stoves.

One Gotleib Schorr, of the outside party, was shot in the thigh, in addition to a thorough mellowing of the whole body. Eleven of the rioters were arrested yesterday morning, all of whom gave bail for their appearance when wanted, except Schorr, who was brought to this city and lodged in the lock-up. Last night he lay on a mattress in the Captain's office, suffering intensely from his many wounds. The physician at Etna probed an hour for the ball with which Schorr was shot, but failed to find it. At the lock-up Dr. McCoy attended him, but did not think it wise to make further search for the ball. Dr. McCoy says the injuries of Schorr are not necessarily fatal, but that with the coming warm weather there will be danger of inflammation, which may result in death.

Schorr's story of the riot is, that he went to the barn-raising party to discover the man who had stolen his coat ten days before, and took some friends with him as a precautionary measure; that he found the coat thief, who did not at first deny the theft, but afterwards did deny it and called in his friends to help to whip Schorr and his party; and that he did not get his coat. It is to be hoped that the injured man may speedily be able to furnish the required bail, and be removed to the hospital where he may be properly cared for.

A Card from William B. Ross.

To the Citizens of Allegheny:

I have been frequently asked what course I had decided on in relation to the enforcement of the present license law. During the pendency of the Local Option measure it will be recollected that the friends of license declared their willingness to unite with the friends of temperance in rigidly enforcing the provisions of the existing laws, believing them to be sufficiently broad and stringent to correct the giant evils of intemperance. This expression of opinion was sustained at the ballot-box by an overwhelming majority in favor of the law as it now stands; and as I am a law-abiding citizen, I desire to test fully the virtues of this measure by the honest and impartial enforcement of the law in its integrity. I am charitable enough to believe that the wholesale dealers and many others who are engaged in the liquor traffic, looking at the question in a commercial rather than its moral aspect, were sincere in their expressions of the superiority of the present law, if enforced to suppress the evils of intemperance. Still, since the failure of the local option measure, it is a well known fact that violations of the law are largely on the increase. I know of one marked instance which has occurred in this city within the shadow of the Mayor's office, where on one Sabbath day a constant stream of some two hundred and fifty or three hundred persons were seen going into one drinking house, and many of them coming out reeling and staggering under the influence of liquor. There are scores of others selling to minors and on the Sabbath, whom I have the necessary evidence to convict. These are facts, and to my mind are more weighty than any mere opinions or theories. Now, what I propose to do is this: If I can count on the support and encouragement of the law-abiding portion of the community, and especially those who are engaged in the liquor traffic, to assist by furnishing the necessary information, I will devote my time, as heretofore, in bringing those violators of law before the proper tribunal, that they may be punished as all lawless persons should be. I do not propose to confine my operations as heretofore to the locality of the Sixth ward, but will extend them to the entire city, feeling that the good results produced in the Sixth ward would be appreciated by all the wards of the city.

Respectfully, WM. B. ROSS.

WARD SCHOOL GRADES.

The Question of a Change—Discussion of the Subject—Interesting Statements on an Important Question.

At the last meeting of the Central Board of Education an important subject was brought up on a report from the Committee on Text Books and Grades, relative to a change in the grades in the ward schools. For a proper understanding of the subject, we may state that the whole ward school course, covering now thirteen steps, comprises a period of seven years. The proposition of the committee is to add another step, covering an additional year, and to include the study of elementary philosophy and physiology. Elementary algebra is to be taken from the thirteenth step and included in the last. The Congress of Principals have been considering the matter and they have, also, made a report differing from that of the committee. The Principals hold to the thirteen steps only and take from the sub-district schools algebra entirely, claiming it to belong to the higher branches of mathematics and that it ought to be taught in the High School only. They hold that there are enough branches taught in the ward schools. As the subject is one of great importance we have obtained statements from both sides and give them below for the information of the public, and particularly those who take an interest in the schools:

THE VIEWS OF THE COMMITTEE.

A statement of the views of the Committee on Text Books and Grades has been furnished us as follows:

The committee believe the grade established by the Principals of the various ward schools for the course of instruction in our ward schools good, with few exceptions, as far as it goes; yet they are of the opinion that it don't go far enough to give the great majority of our children, who get their entire education in our Public Schools, an opportunity of as liberal an education, or as thorough, as it should do. Hence the committee has recommended an additional year to the course, so that the instruction may be more thorough; and has also recommended two additional elementary studies beyond what is now taught in our ward schools, viz: the Elements of Natural Philosophy and Physiology.

There are various reasons why the committee are of the opinion that the additions should be made.

This being preeminently a city of mechanism, and the walks of life from which our workshops are filled are not from those in affluent circumstances, but rather from those of limited means, hence it is all important that this class of our citizens, to enable them to become skilled workmen, should become acquainted with the laws of mechanics; and seeing that they get their entire education (with few exceptions) in our ward schools, how are they to obtain this knowledge if you adopt the grade presented by the principals, which discards all branches adapted to this purpose? But by adding the elementary branches proposed by the committee, you give them an opportunity of gaining the desired knowledge, to a certain extent.

Referring to the statistics of our schools, we find that about four per cent. of the scholars enrolled in our ward schools enter the High School, and about one-fourth of this number withdraw at the expiration of the first year. The committee are of the opinion that if the grade is advanced, as suggested, it will not only give the ninety-six one-hundredths an opportunity of getting a more liberal education, but it will also obviate the necessity of the twenty-five per cent. who leave the High School at the expiration of the first year entering that institution, from the fact that they will be able to get the same instruction in their ward schools at a saving of at least fifty dollars per scholar to all of our outer wards. For we must bear in mind that our city has extended its boundaries, so that a great proportion of our children must have some conveyance, and with this expense, in connection with the extra clothing and books that it takes to fit a scholar for the High School, above what would be necessary in attending the ward school, would be fully fifty dollars, and perhaps double this amount. This we consider an unnecessary expense, and quite a burdensome tax upon a man in moderate circumstances, who may have two or three children to send to school.

The committee had the pleasure of listening to a very eloquent speech made by the Chairman of the Principals' congress in favor of the grade submitted by the principals, in which he took occasion to say that the assistant teachers in our ward schools were not capable of teaching the branches recommended by the committee. Whether this assertion is correct are not, the committee is unable to say.

A large majority of the grammar teachers now employed in this city have been teaching for a number of years, and if they have given that study and attention to their profession which the public have a right to expect and demand, they certainly should be competent to teach the additional elementary branches of the proposed grade. If they are not competent, their positions should be filled by those who are. For the committee are decidedly of the opinion that it is not expedient to lower the grade of our schools to suit the capacity of the teachers; but, upon the contrary, to raise the scholastic attainments of our teachers to suit the grade.

There is probably no city in the United States which is, in itself, a better school than Pittsburgh. It is, in fact, a great laboratory, in which the teacher, who is an earnest student, may become thoroughly and practically fitted for all the duties of the class room. If teachers will not avail themselves of the means of education within their reach, they themselves should suffer, not the children who are placed under their care.

It is said that if the grade proposed by the committee is established, it would entail additional expense; that it would necessitate the purchasing of a large amount of apparatus for each school. This is certainly a mistake. A much higher grade than the proposed one was formerly taught in the ward schools, and it did not then entail any great additional expense. Why should it do so now?

By adopting the grade proposed by the Principals, in which they omit the elements of Algebra, now taught in our ward schools, you compel all persons living in the suburban districts, who wish their children to get any knowledge of this science, to be at the additional expense as before stated.

Some persons fear that this addition to our ward schools would interfere with the usefulness of our High School. Upon the contrary, the committee are of the opinion that it is just what our High School wants to perfect it. It may prevent many additions in the way of pupils for one year, but after that time elapses the pupils will be better prepared, both physically and mentally, to undergo the course of instruction which they are expected to pursue when they enter that institution. It will also obviate, to a great degree, an expense which the High School now necessarily incurs (which expense will be much greater if the proposed grade by the principals should be adopted), viz: the necessity of employing about one third more professors for the D classes at the opening of the school year than is necessary at its close, from the fact that about that ratio of pupils leave at the expiration of the first year, should the recommendation of the committee be adopted. The High School would have this unnecessary expense, and the pupils would also save the additional expense which their attendance upon the High School necessarily involves, from the fact of the children having an opportunity of studying in their ward schools all they would be taught the first year in the High School.

There is another important matter which must not be lost sight of. If the grade proposed by the Principals should be adopted, the admission to our High School would be so great that the building would not contain the scholars another year. (For we are aware that the Central Board and City superintendent had to vacate their rooms last spring on account of there not being sufficient room.) The consequence would be, that the citizens would be put to the expense of building another institution. But we think by adopting the recommendation of the committee, this expense would be avoided, our ward schools being so improved that the children may get a liberal education in them, thus preventing a great influx of pupils to the high school for a short time: and these falling off, those who would enter would most likely complete the course, and the present building would have sufficient capacity to contain the pupils for some time to come.

WHAT THE PRINCIPALS SAY.

The objections of the Principals' Congress to extending the course of study for the ward schools are mainly as follows:

First. The course of study is sufficiently extensive at present. It is so much so that there is not time to teach thoroughly the elementary branches which underlie all scholarship, without neglecting some other branches which are required to be taught.

Inasmuch as ninety per cent., at least, of the public school pupils finish their school education in the ward schools, it is very important that the ward school instruction shall be as thorough and practical as possible. The pupils before leaving these schools should be proficient in the elementary branches, especially in penmanship, the practical parts of arithmetic, and in the ability to speak and write the English language with facility and accuracy; they should also have a good store of important facts relating to common things, and be taught to think and reason as far as their age will permit. It is well known that in these respects there is great deficiency in most of our schools, and the principals, those who ought to know, say that the deficiency results from attempting to teach too many things at once, and that to crowd additional studies into the ward school course will tend to increase this deficiency.

The second objection is that the studies which are proposed to be added to the ward school course recommended by the principals, viz: Algebra, Natural Philosophy and Physiology, are properly High school studies, and can be taught as sciences much better in the High school, where the Central Board has provided apparatus and special professors for the purpose, than in the ward schools, where they have none of these advantages. Algebra is a branch of the higher mathematics, and its study is of very little benefit to any, except such as take the higher mathematical course, and hence its proper place is in the mathematical department of the High school. Some of the more elementary and practical parts of Natural Philosophy and Physiology are taught in most ward schools as oral lessons, and to do more with respect to them does not appear to be practicable.

ARRIVAL OF DUDLEY.

The Fast Line this Morning Brings the Prisoner and his Wife.

Robert L. Dudley, charged with robbing the mails between Buffalo and Toledo, on the Michigan Southern and Lake Shore Railroad, a full account of whose exploits was published in the COMMERCIAL, of the 3d inst., arrived in this city at one o'clock and twenty-five minutes, this morning. The prisoner had been fully committed for trial by the United States District Court of Massachusetts, in default of ten thousand dollars bail, and left Boston Wednesday night for this place, in the custody of Col. R. G. Usher, United States Marshal for the District of Massachusetts, C. V. Williams, Deputy United States Marshal, and J. S. Ewell, of Chicago, Special Agent of the Postoffice Department. Mrs. Dudley, the wife of the prisoner, accompanied the party, though not under arrest.

THE TRIP FROM BOSTON.

The officers, with their man, left Boston at five o'clock Thursday night, breakfasted in New York yesterday morning, took the nine o'clock train for Philadelphia, and left the latter city on the Fast Line yesterday noon. Dudley was allowed every privilege consistent with his safe keeping, and was nowhere recognized by his fellow-passengers as a prisoner. Mrs. Dudley was constant in her attention to her husband, and bore herself with true womanliness during the whole journey.

ARRIVAL AT THE UNION DEPOT.

The Fast Line was on time this morning, and the very few who were aware of Dudley's expected arrival were kept waiting but a short time. The car which contained the interesting company was switched off to a side track, and the occupants passed quietly into the Union Depot Hotel. Colonel Usher registered the names of the whole party, and they were at once shown to their rooms.

DUDLEY'S APPEARANCE.

Dudley was dressed in a dark suit, and looked, in every respect, the gentleman. Except the natural fatigue of the long journey, he showed no signs of dejection or depression of spirits. He walked up the hotel steps between the Marshals as though the three were ordinary traveling companions, and passed immediately to his room in their charge.

THIS MORNING

Colonel Usher will transfer the custody of his prisoner to Colonel Hall, the United States Marshal of the district, when his duties in the premises will have been discharged. Dudley will then be committed to jail to await his trial on the henious charges preferred against him. It is not probable that he will be able to obtain sufficient bail to effect his release before trial. He is now only held on the irregularity connected with the Washburne draft, for which $10,000 bail is required. Should that be furnished, however, there are many more charges of a similar nature awaiting him, and he will therefore not attempt to regain his liberty before a jury has passed upon his case.

Mr. Ewell remains in the city for the present. It is now one year since he quietly took out a warrant for Dudley's arrest, and he congratulates himself that his long search has at last resulted in success. He says that for the five weeks before the capture of the much-wanted man, the hunt was close and exciting. He had him within a radius of twenty miles, he was sure, but in what particular locality constituted the puzzling problem. Certain admissions, it is believed, have been made by Dudley to his captor, but Mr. Ewell very wisely refrains from extended remarks on that subject.

Hiland Schools.

The Directors of the Hiland schools, East Liberty, have made the following appointment of teachers for the ensuing year:

Principal—George P. Fulton.

Grammar Department—Miss Hannah J. Lyon, Miss Fannie C. Kyle.

Intermediate Department—Misses Emma Bridge, M. J. Clark, R. Ewing.

Primary Department—Miss A. G. Christy, Miss Nannie Gillespie, Mrs. Sarah L. Nicholson, Miss Mary N. Reid, Miss Clara Black.

THE PENNSYLVANIA MILITIA.

Circular of Adjutant General Latta.

The new Adjutant General has issued the following circular:

"HEADQUARTERS N. G. OF PENNSYLVANIA,
ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE,
HARRISBURG, June 2, 1873.

"In assuming the duties of the Department, the undersigned desires to congratulate the soldiery of Pennsylvania upon securing such financial aid, by direct appropriation, as will enable them, in some measure at least, to sustain themselves without entirely depending, as heretofore, upon individual resources for such sustenance.

"The first direct pecuniary recognition of the National Guards' service, by Legislative enactment and executive approval, marks an era in its history, which now makes it such a component element in the body politic as will, it is believed, secure it that countenance and approval from a generous public to which it ever should be entitled.

"To foster and encourage public sentiment in its behalf and warrant the further request for other and larger money aid, it is the duty of each and all of its members, officers and men, to give it that tone, by strict attention to discipline, thorough organization and efficient drill, as will necessarily compel every citizen to recognize it as a necessity in time of peace, ever ready in trouble and disaster to furnish that essential aid which shall quell and suppress riot and disorder.

"To effectually accomplish these looked for results every guardsman must lend his direct personal energies; it is the individual unit, acting with his fellow, that gives character and strength to the whole body. There must be such pride entertained by each one in his respective corps, as will induce him to consider that by his connection with it he is performing his whole duty and doing his State some service.

"It is the efficiency, drill and discipline, good conduct and high soldierly department that brings into favorable public notice all organized bodies of troops. The service is not one of mere pleasure; it requires time and labor to reach perfection. Without neglecting business pursuits this perfection may be attained by treating it as demanding both labor and sacrifice.

"Officers, by careful study and close attention, will be enabled to so educate their commands as to instill in them that pride of organization which must ever sustain and support them. Avoid all strifes, bickerings, dissensions; obedience and submission are elements in the soldier's education that should never be forgotten. Neither is there necessity for arbitrary or overbearing action on the part of superiors. The duty and the law are plain and simple, and when rightly followed and well understood, will give no cause for dispute or disturbance.

"Let it be our effort, then, to place the military of the Commonwealth upon the footing and standard that her great resources, her acknowledged power, her education and intelligence, her brilliant war record demand that they should be; so that as well as her common schools, her colleges, her universities, her bench, her bar, her manufactures, her commerce and her mines, may her soldiers, too, be recognized and pointed to abroad and by her sister States with like acknowledged merit and distinction and high repute.

JAMES W. LATTA,
"Adjutant General."

TEACHERS AND SALARIES.

The List for the Ensuing Year,

Yesterday the Committee of the Central Board of Education, on Teachers and Salaries, held a meeting for the purpose of allotting the number of teachers in the ward schools, and fixing the salaries of the same for the ensuing school year.

On motion of Mr. Lewis, it was ordered that one teacher (not including the Principal) be allowed for every forty pupils.

On motion the committee decided to recommend that the Miller street (colored) school be abolished.

Under the resolution of Mr. Lewis, the number of teachers in the different departments of each district, based on the average attendance during the past three months, will be as follows:

Meeting of Mexican Veterans.

In answer to numerous inquiries as to when and where the Convention of Mexican Veterans will be held, we would say that the time has not been definitely determined upon, though it will be some time during the coming fall. Washington City has been selected as the place. The object of the Convention is to take concerted action with reference to the claims of the veterans upon the bounty of the government, and to make preparations for presenting the matter to the consideration of the next Congress.

Select Reading at High School.

Prof. Wm. Mason Evans read selections from Shakespeare's Hamlet, Dickens' Nicholas Nickleby, and Darius Green's Flying Machine, before the pupils and friends of the Central High School, yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of the societies connected with the institution. In his personation of the characters of Shakespeare and Dickens, the Professor gave evidence of a carefully and well trained voice. He ranks among our first elocutionists, and being home talent, should be appreciated and encouraged by our citizens.

Allegheny Poor Board.

The Allegheny Board of Directors of the Poor met in their room in the City Hall, last evening. A large number of bills were audited and approved. The consideration of the question of appointing an engineer for the Poor House, was laid over till the next meeting of the Board.

CITY MATTERS IN BRIEF.

TONY PASTOR will be at the Opera House on Monday. Get reserved seats.

THE Miller street (colored) schools will be an interesting subject at the meeting of the Central Board of Education on Tuesday next.

AN ENTERPRISING advertiser offers to furnish ladies with a new attachment for trimming dresses. As if the sex had any distaste for that sort of thing now!

THE Hospital Committee of the City Councils will meet this afternoon, when the proposals for a site will be opened, and a decision rendered as to the location of the proposed buildings.

PITTOCK & Co., opposite the Postoffice, send us "Harper's Weekly," the "Lady's Journal," the "Army and Navy Journal," "Clipper," and other current publications. They keep everything in this line.

CATHERINE BENDER is blind. Unless somebody tells her that she slept in the lock-up last night, she may never know the degradation through which she has passed.

A VERY large woman was completely carried away yesterday by two stalwart policemen. Many small boys attended on the performance, and the cortege passed our office at half-past two o'clock on its solemn way to the lock-up.

MR. GUYAN M. IRWIN has resigned his position as clerk to Mayor Callow, and J. D. Ramsey, Esq., has been appointed to fill the vacancy. We have seldom wrestled with a "brief" which contained the names of three such courteous and popular gentlemen.

THE remains of the late James Mawhinney, who died recently in Ireland, arrived here yesterday morning. The funeral will take place this afternoon at three o'clock from the residence of his brother-in-law, David Hutchinson, Esq., corner of Bluff and Stevenson streets, Sixth ward.

ROBERT MCGONNIGLE, Esq., Secretary to the Allegheny Poor Board, was last evening surprised by the presentation to him of a full suit of the fire department uniform. The gift was the spontaneous offering of admiring friends to a most worthy amateur fireman. William D. Moore, Esq., made the oration.

AT a meeting of the stockholders of the Allegheny Homestead Bank the following persons were elected to serve far the ensuing year: J. D. Straus, D. W. Riggs, Thomas Jones, Jr., Isaac Stewart, William Rowbottom, G. Langenheim, C. Diedrich, Daniel Daub, James A. Thompson. The Board organized by electing J. D. Straus President and D. W. Riggs Vice President.

A NEW literary venture now claims the attention of all classes and conditions of society. It issues from a local publishing house, and is devoted to short biographical notices of distinguished men and women in the two cities. Some happy owners of it prize it so highly that they chain it to the desks of their counting houses and offices. It is very popular.

THE team attached to car No. 2, of the Central Passenger Railway, was temporarily detached yesterday afternoon, in order to pass an obstruction on Center avenue, near the residence of R. J. Powers, Esq., when, becoming frightened, the horses ran away. As a result, one of them had a leg broken in two places, and had to be shot. This railway has better live stock than any similar concern in the city, and the loss in this case is not small.

THE Survey Committee visited the Thirty-second and Thirty-fifth wards yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of getting fuller information in regard to the proposed change of location of a portion of High street, the thoroughfare running along the brow of the hill in parts of old Mount Washington and Union boroughs. The committee made a thorough examination of the ground and will no doubt come to a conclusion which will subserve as nearly as possible the interests of both parties.

A GENTLEMAN connected with the postoffice lost, about noon on Wednesday, a pair of gold bowed spectacles, valued solely as a gift on the twenty-fifth anniversary of his wedding. The glasses were dropped on Fifth, Wylie or Center avenues, between the postoffice and Overhill street. Should the finder be an honest man, and this notice happens to fall under his eye, let him return the spectacles to the COMMERCIAL counting-room, where he will receive the thanks of the loser and a suitable reward.

MRS. MAGGIE C. PHELPS, wife of Mr. Thomas H. Phelps, City Assessor, died yesterday morning at the residence of her husband, 198 Third avenue. She had been ill for some time with typhoid fever, but her situation was not regarded as critical until within a day or two before her death. Mr. Phelps has the sincere sympathy of his friends in his sad bereavement. The deceased was not quite twenty-four years of age, and leaves two children. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon, at three o'clock.

MR. JOHN ROUTH, the "senior" conductor on the Wall's accommodation trains, returned home on Thursday, after a twenty days' trip to the west, and resumed his position yesterday, being cordially welcomed by all his traveling patrons—men, women and children alike. John is not much given to weakness or fatigue, and when he goes off on his annual "fly" it is understood to be for fun and recreation, and not for his health, which is always prime, notwithstanding his arduous duties. This time he went as far west as Colorado Springs, sixty miles from Denver, and, in company with two or three friends, had a season of rare enjoyment. His experiences on the plains were sufficiently varied and interesting to make the recollections of the trip pleasant and durable. During his absence his train was well attended to by conductor McClelland.

Great Bargains.

We would respectfully inform our customers and the public in general that we will, during the months of June and July, make a reduction in the prices of our goods by giving a discount of 20 per cent. on all cash purchases of one dollar and upwards. We have found this necessary in order to run off part of our stock to make room for our fall goods, already ordered. This is no old stock we offer at these low prices, but it includes all the stock on hand, with the exception of magazines and newspapers. Our goods are all marked in plain figures, so that all can see for themselves. Our stock is complete and cannot be surpassed in this city. Call and see before you make your purchases, and save twenty per cent by so doing.

VERY IMPORTANT TO LADIES.

Sewing Machine Attachment.

James M. Hunter publishes a card elsewhere, to which the especial attention of all ladies using any kind of sewing machine, is urgently invited. At the very moderate price of $8 00 he is selling a combined attachment, comprising Tucker, Binder, Three Hemmers, French Folder, Cord Welter, Quaker Folder, Ruffler, Gatherer, &c., generally costing, in all, full $20 00. With them, a lady is enabled to do fifteen distinct kinds of new original work, besides doing all the kinds of work done with other attachments. This combination vastly increases the work, and usefulness of the sewing machine. It is cheap, simple, universally applicable, and will more than pay for itself in a few days. Full instructions and the attachment securely packed, and expressed or delivered free to any person, anywhere, sending $8 00. Having seen it used, and examined the work done by it, we can guarantee it as the best, and most complete attachment (or rather set of attachments), in the market, and no lady having a sewing machine should be without it. Be sure to mention the name of the machine for which the attachment is desired. A splendid chance for agents.

The Place to Insure.

Any of our readers who have come to the conclusion to insure their property against loss by fire, will find the Teutonia, of Allegheny, No. 206 Ohio street, one of the best insurance companies in our midst wherein to place their risks. It adjusts all losses promptly and satisfactorily, and is always in a good healthy condition. Many consider a policy taken in this company as vastly superior to one taken in a foreign institution, inasmuch as this is a recognized responsible home company, and in case of loss by fire one has no need to go to any inconvenience to have a clear settlement. Be wise, and place your risks at home.

New Building Association.

Shady Side Building and Loan Association has now its charter, and recorded the same. Those who wish to have the right to vote, and nominate officers, should lose no time in securing stock and paying in their initiation fees, as the election of officers will take place on the 17th inst. Shares can be had at 416 Penn street, from P. Lanigan, Secretary pro tem. Meetings every Tuesday in the Twentieth ward school house at seven o'clock P. M.

Something that Merchants Should Know.

That T. J. Wallace, No. 31 Sixth street, has in store a very large stock of tobacco and cigars, which are being offered at the lowest prices. These are standard goods, comprising Louisville, Richmond and Lorillard's plug tobacco, Eastern and Western fine cuts, smoking tobaccos from the manufacturers of the best brands, snuffs of all kinds and pipes of many patterns. Willet's Louisville quarters, without doubt the finest chest cavendish made, can be had at this establishment. New goods in large quantities arriving daily, and everything is sound and warranted as represented.

Are You Hunting a Nice Suit of Clothes?

If you are just call at Mr. B. Tiegel's tailoring establishment, No. 53 Smithfield street, and examine his new goods just received—second invoice this spring. A heavy stock on hand to make your selection from. Mr. Tiegel has the latest patterns from the East, and he is a splendid cutter and gives his work to competent journeymen, as he employes no bad workmen. You can rely on getting a perfect fit, and entire satisfaction in price.

Summer Clothing.

That well known and popular merchant tailor Mr. P. McArdle, whose establishment is located on the northeast corner of Smithfield and Diamond streets, is in the field with his large and elegant stock of summer goods. In the selection of the goods the greatest of care has been exercised and the utmost taste displayed which cannot fail to please the most fastidious of his numerous patrons. Give him a call and be satisfied.

Of Interest to the Ladies.

James M. Hunter has opened an agency for a combined attachment for sewing machines in parlor No. 20 St. Clair Hotel. The attachment performs fifteen different kinds of new and original work with the utmost care and rapidity. The ladies here have more work than can be performed by any sewing machine for comparatively nothing. There are no sewing machines now in use to which this invention cannot be attached. Any of our readers who may have a sewing machine and desire to have this superior piece of mechanism attached should call at once on Mr. Hunter, at the St. Clair Hotel, as he will only remain in the city for a few days.

The Anderson Sash Balance.

Those who are erecting buildings or altering the windows of old ones, should call at No. 70 Smithfield street and examine thoroughly the Anderson sash balance, or they may have cause to regret its absence from their houses. All who have witnessed the working of this valuable invention declare there is nothing like it. The ease with which it is manipulated, and the simplicity of its construction recommend it to all who contemplate building. One hotel alone in Chicago has adjusted 17,000 of these balances.

The payment of gifts will begin on Saturday, July 12, at 9 o'clock A. M. Tickets drawing gifts must be presented at room No. 4 Public Library building, where cash checks upon the Farmers' and Drovers' Bank of Louisville, or sight drafts upon the Fourth National Bank of New York, at the option of the holder, will be given for the tickets.
